Legion Permitted To Add 'Royal'

OTTAWA (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth has agreed to permit the use of the word "Royal" in the name of the Canadian Legion, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker announced yesterday.

He said the veterans' organization would henceforth be known as the Royal Canadian Legion.

Carrier Toll May Top 100

NEW YORK (AP)—A sinister, smoky fire roared more than 12 hours through the world's newest and largest aircraft carrier—the USS Constellation—at the Brooklyn Navy Yard Monday, killing at least 46 persons. A police official said the death toll could exceed 100.

Damage was estimated at $75,000,000.

Flame Sweeps Vast Carrier

Hundreds were injured and at least 46 killed yesterday when fire ravaged the huge newest, largest aircraft carrier Constellation as it was moored in Brooklyn Navy Yard. Many of the dead were trapped below red-hot decks as billowing smoke poured from the huge craft and firemen fought vainly hour after hour.—(AP Photofax.)

'Santa' Fleming Reports Today

OTTAWA (UPI)—Finance Minister Donald Fleming is expected to play Santa Claus to the nation's taxpayers tonight in an unusual baby budget designed to give the economy a sharp jolt forward.

While details of his presentation remain secret until Fleming begins to speak at 5 p.m. PST, pre-budget speculation has centred almost entirely around a decrease in taxation.

The big question in most minds seems to be how far the federal treasury can go. It appears certain that the $12,000,000 surplus Fleming forecast in his regular budget last March will disappear in a welter of red ink. Some say the new accounting may show a deficit as high as $100,000,000.

The finance minister's original figuring has suffered from both ends. His revenue forecasts were predicated on a 6 per cent increase in the gross national product. Instead, the GNP—total of all goods and services produced—has lagged well behind that rate.

MPs' Pay Unchanged

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker had no Christmas cheer Monday for MPs who might like a pay raise.

He told the Commons that no consideration has been given to boosting the annual indemnity of $8,000 for members of Parliament, plus $2,000 for expenses.

Jolly Remark Irks Green

LONDON (CP)—Says the Earl of Home, Britain's foreign secretary: "I am glad to say on that I agree with Mr. Green."

Says External Affairs Minister Green of Canada: "Then I must be wrong."

The exchange is quoted by The Evening Standard—with-out giving the particular context—in a story relating how Lord Home "upset" Green with what was intended as a "jolly remark" about Canada's former colonial status.

According to reports of the meeting, Green dropped the diplomatic niceties and bluntly told the NATO session that NATO must improve its "image" in the eyes of the uncommitted countries.

He told his fellow foreign ministers that when NATO members voted in the UN in support of Belgian and Portuguese colonialism, they could damage the alliance's standing in the eyes of the neutralist Afro-Asian countries.

Kennedy Win Official

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Kennedy was officially elected President of the United States Monday, ending weeks of bickering over charges of fraud and irregularity in the close popular vote. It became official when the 537 members of the electoral college met in the 50 state capitals and cast a majority of their ballots for him. Vote was 306-222, with the other 15 votes for Sen. Harry Byrd.

B.C. Pay Never Higher

B.C.'s total labor earnings for the first eight months of 1960 were the highest in history despite rising unemployment, the provincial bureau of economics and statistics said Monday.

The bureau said the total was $31,800,000 higher than in the same period of 1959. Average weekly wage in August was $82.47 compared with $79.68 in 1959.

The bureau said 57,000 persons were unemployed during November while 526,000 had jobs, 2,000 more than last year. In Vancouver the number of persons seeking work in November was 20 per cent higher than November, 1959.

Winter Jobs Doubled Starr Says

OTTAWA (UPI)—Labor Minister Michael Starr said last night the federal government's winter works program will provide twice as many jobs this winter as last.

He said 100,000 men will be given on-site employment compared to 50,000 in 1959-60 and 35,000 in 1958-59, the winter cost-sharing program was instituted. He said each on-site job was matched by one in supply industries.

Starr told the House of Commons that up to Dec. 16 4,589 projects valued at $203,000,000 had been approved.

$1,000 for Christmas

Welcome Christmas present of $1,000 was won by Gordon Adams, 17 Game Road, last night at the 22nd Kinsmen bingo game in Memorial Arena. He's surrounded by daughters Joanne, left; Darlene, foreground, and Linda. Mrs. Adams didn't hear of her husband's win until he returned after the game — she was baby-sitting with three other daughters.—(Colonist photos.)

Excited last night when she won a $1,000 prize at the Kinsmen's bingo in Memorial Arena, Lily Mar held her cheque upside down when showing it to the crowd. (See story, Page 17.)

Strategy Motion Killed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Canada's disarmament plans took a severe hammering Monday and the hardest blow came when some co-sponsoring countries withheld support in a United Nations vote.

Debate centred on a resolution on a resolution submitted Monday by Wallace B. Nesbitt, vice-chairman of the Canadian delegation, asking in part that the 15th General Assembly's political committee vote on Canada's disarmament plan, presented earlier in the session.

The committee adopted instead, 29 to 16 with 26 abstentions, an Indian resolution killing the request that it vote on the Canadian draft.

While the vote was procedural, the Canadian delegation's strategy for winning support of its plan before the assembly adjourns today was effectively squelched. The assembly resumes sessions March 7, after which the resolution could have another chance.

IMMEDIATE VOTE
The committee passed unanimously proposals by Canada—as amended by India—urging an immediate vote on three other resolutions having to do with cessation of nuclear tests and a ban on dissemination of nuclear weapons.

These were passed. The committee also recommended that nine other disarmament resolutions be put aside for the present, along with that of Canada.

Indian Defence Minister V. K. Krishna Menon started the assault on the Canadian formula early Monday by stating it was "inappropriate" and would mean an "impediment" to a renewal of East-West negotiations.

Prairies To Keep Shivering

EDMONTON (CP)—Temperatures were below zero from the Rocky Mountains to Lake Winnipeg Monday night as the western prairies were hit with the coldest weather of the season. Colder temperatures were forecast for today and no relief was in sight.

Your Last Chance Today To Donate to 500 Fund

Today is the last chance to make a donation that will help the needy families of The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund. The fund closes today at 5 p.m. Donations may be brought in to the main office at 2631 Douglas Street or the downtown office at 1215 Broad Street. Money mailed to the fund may not arrive in time for this year's distribution. Late donations will launch the fund next year.

Today's total of $7,672 guarantees cheques of $15 for each of the fund's 500 needy families.

Additional money over the $7,500 mark will go toward helping as many extra families as the total permits. So far 11 additional families will receive cheques for $15.

A jump of about 300 per cent in Greater Victoria's welfare rolls brought about the decision to enlarge the fund.

Every $15 increase in total means another family will be helped at this time of year when it is most needed.

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flesch

On the train to New York yesterday I noticed a middle-aged woman who had taken off her shoes, put her stockings feet on the opposite seat and was taking it easy.

Of course nobody objected or bothered to take any notice, but I was still sufficiently influenced by my European upbringing to be a little startled and have some second thoughts.

When I grew up in Austria it was utterly unthinkable that anyone would take off his shoes in a train or trolley car. (I said "his" shoes, because the idea of a lady doing such a thing was even more unthinkable.) Not only that, it was also unthinkable that anyone would put up his feet, even with shoes on, on the opposite seat.

Nerer Open Collar

It was also unthinkable that a man in a public place would open his collar or loosen his tie. It was also unthinkable that he would publicly appear in his shirtsleeves.

To what degree manners have changed in such countries as Austria, Germany and France I don't know. I'm sure things now are different than they used to be, but I still doubt very much whether travelling in Europe in 1960 you'd see a woman in a train take off her shoes and put her feet on the opposite seat. To my mind, this matter comes clearly under the heading of progress. Comfort, as Aldous Huxley once wrote in an essay, is a comparatively recent invention of Western civilization, and I expect as the years go by we'll have more and more of it. Clothes will get looser, shoes will get lighter, manners and customs will get easier.

Basic Human Urge

There's a basic urge in human nature to take off your shoes and put up your feet; and sooner or later we'll proceed to recognize it officially.

In India, where shoes are an uncomfortable reminder of colonial days, I've seen many well-dressed, well-bred Indians enter a railway compartment, take a seat, kick off their sandals and put their bare feet up on the seat as a matter of course.

I also got used to the sight of government officials sitting cross-legged and barefoot on their office stools, with their sandals neatly parked on the floor below.

Our own Western civilization still has a long way to go toward complete, unfettered comfort in all situations, but slowly and by small degrees we're getting there.

Surely when we get to Utopia, most of us, most of the time, will have our shoes

Your Good Health

Pains and Aches in Back Often Muscular in Origin

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, MD

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have upper back trouble. After X-rays I was assured that my spine is in fine shape, but the soreness and stiffness persist."

"Originally I had lower back trouble caused by lifting, which I controlled by exercise and good body usage. This second problem developed after helping my bedridden grandfather—B. D."

When there is back pain, it is natural to think first of the spine—and you were quite right, of course, in having the X-rays. You at least ruled the spine out as a cause. If it isn't the spine, what is it?

The back is covered with a complex network of muscles, some running lengthwise, some at an angle. The majority of pains and aches in the back are due to some disorder involving these muscles.

FAULTY POSTURE

They can be from muscle strain or from irritation of the sheaths which cover the muscles. The latter is called fibrositis. Often faulty posture is involved. Or lifting can strain or cause a tear in the muscle fibres. Or, obviously, a combination of faulty posture and too much heavy strain can be the cause.

Furthermore, we know that some focal infection—teeth, tonsils, or elsewhere—can have its effect in inciting inflammation of the muscles themselves (myositis) as well as attacking the sheaths. There also may be neuritis, which can be caused or intensified by focal infections.

OTHER THINGS

None of the above will show on an X-ray plate. Still, since the X-ray says the spine itself isn't guilty, these other things are far and away the most likely ones to be causing the pain.

And I want to make mention of one other factor: nervous tension. Such tension, over a period of time, can take its toll by causing pain or discomfort in various parts of the body—head, stomach, throat, abdomen, back, neck and shoulders, etc.

I'm quite aware—who isn't?—that some patients protest that "the doctor says it's nothing but nerves. I suppose he means it's all my imagination."

PHYSICAL PAIN

But that isn't it at all. Nerves can make the body tense—and this tenseness can contribute to real physical pain.

But to get back to back pains in particular—in your case, where the spine is in good condition and you can't pin down the particular type of muscular pain, a careful physical examination may give some clues, such as discovering a focal infection that goes on and on.

Otherwise, physiotherapy careful exercise, and sometimes the application of heat, whether by infra-red lamp, heating pad or other means, often afford relief.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What can be done about cauliflower or fly-away ears?—E. N."

Cauliflower ears are those in which the tissue and cartilage have been torn, broken or swollen, as from boxing, wrestling or other sports. Usually the problem is too complicated to do much about. I thought

Four Agencies

Reduced Chest Budgets Facing Further Cuts

Revised budgets submitted by four of the 22 agencies belonging to Greater Victoria Community Chest may have to be cut still further, Chest secretary A. G. Gilmore has warned.

All agencies have been asked to cut their budgets in the face of the 1960 Chest campaign's failure to reach a goal of $350,000. The 22 revised budgets are expected to be submitted by Friday.

About $280,000 has been collected by the Chest to date and officials are hoping for at least another $10,000 before the last donations are in.

"fly-away ears" were those that stuck out too much. If I'm wrong, correct me. But I'm right, plastic surgeons generally can do a successful job of changing the angle so that the ears don't stick out so much. Each case is individual, so have your regular doctor refer you to a plastic surgeon and ask his advice.

Note to C. J. R.: No, to the best of my knowledge, there is no hereditary factor involved in alcoholism. In fact, the children of a booze-hound often hate the sight of the stuff.

Several large donations from employees of Victoria firms are still outstanding. "Some of the agencies may have to be cut even beyond this revised budget amount," Mr. Gilmore said, "but we will have to wait for all the revised budgets to get the overall picture."

Only minor savings have been shown in two of the revised budgets already received. Another has chopped its requirements by 20 per cent by raising membership fees and another was given $2,400 in unexpected grants from the federal and provincial governments.

Wet Weather Collision Injures Victoria Couple

Three cars involved in a wet-weather crash Sunday on Patricia Bay Highway just beyond Elk Lake sent a man and his wife to Royal Jubilee Hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

The crash occurred about 4:40 p.m., Saanich police said, and caused damage to the cars estimated at $1,400. Police reported a car driven by Gustave Swanson, Ganges, started to overtake another driven north by William Smith, 11328 Chalet, and found it could not pass because of oncoming traffic. Swinging back to the right, the Swanson car went out of control, struck the Smith car, then swung into the southbound lane, and collided with a car driven by David Welham, 3559 Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. Welham were the two treated for a shoulder bruise in one case and mouth abrasions in the second.

All Travel Firms Planning Extra Runs for Christmas

Christmas air travel between Victoria and Vancouver will be lighter than former years—but still heavy enough to warrant 24 extra return flights to the mainland, officials said yesterday.

B.C. government ferries and Vancouver Island Coach Lines, expecting to take up the slack, are preparing for heavy holiday travel.

IF NECESSARY

A spokesman said government ferries will make extra runs if necessary, but the regular schedule would remain in effect.

VICL has extra equipment ready for use on mainland and up-island routes and will put on as many additional sections as necessary.

EXTRAS LISTED

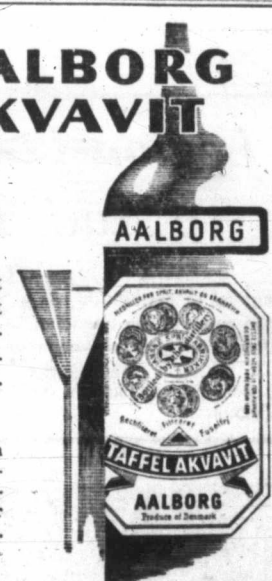

Trans-Canada Air Lines has laid on four extra Victoria-Vancouver flights Thursday, five Friday, four Saturday, six Monday and five Tuesday. Regular schedules will be maintained throughout, with the exception of Sunday, when three Victoria-Vancouver flights will be cut.

Huge Carrier Fire Claims 46 Lives

operation, launched as they scrambled for safety.

Many made their way hand-over-hand down ropes and cables—some losing their grip and dropping into the icy East River, where they were picked up.

SQUEEZED THROUGH
Firemen teetering on snow-slippery scaffolding squeezed some workmen through tiny portholes. Tugs braved roaring flames and billowing, choking smoke, to pluck others to safety, while huge shore-based cranes dipped down to snatch human cargo from the decks.

Acetylene torches ate holes through the hull of the Constellation well below the fire level to aid rescuers in getting aboard the 60,000-ton carrier.

4,200 WORKMEN
There were 4,200 workmen and a small navy complement aboard the Constellation when the fire broke out about 8 a.m. MST.

They were swarming all over the vessel—as long as five city blocks and from keel to masttip as tall as a 25-storey building—when the fire started.

The blazing jet fuel cascaded along the main deck and, in the words of one workman, "inside of seconds that whole deck was covered with fire."

LAID OUT, 10, 1957
The keel for the Constellation was laid Oct. 10, 1957. She was equipped to carry 100 planes. Instead of anti-aircraft guns, she has surface-to-air missiles for defence against attack.

One survivor told of being driven below decks by the over-powering smoke. He and several companions took refuge for 1½ hours in a small compartment, where they closed themselves in against the fire. Firemen rescued them.

LESS FORTUNATE
Less fortunate were 11 men who died in a 20-by-15-foot room far below the top deck. Rev. Joseph Fox, a Roman Catholic fire department chaplain, was with a rescue team that found them. He said:

"These men were all lying on the floor and in a way you could say they were huddled together like little puppies. All these men were unburned and it appeared they had suffocated in this little room."

TWO MILES
The navy yard is only about two miles from the section of Brooklyn that was ravaged by fire and explosion. Friday after the collision of two airliners above Staten Island. One of the planes, a jet, plunged into a Brooklyn street, killing the 84 persons aboard and seven on the ground.

Flames Delay U.S. Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. Navy plans for bolstering the striking power of its fleet were dealt a staggering blow Monday when fire swept the super-aircraft carrier Constellation at Brooklyn navy yard.

The $275,000,000 ship was one of two 60,000-ton carriers slated for commissioning next March and assignment to the Pacific fleet later in the year. The other, Kittyhawk, is nearing completion at a New Jersey yard.

URGENT NEED
Urgently needed for increased U.S. military readiness ordered last summer by President Eisenhower, Kittyhawk and Constellation are the fifth and sixth of the 1,050-foot super carrier class.

Only one more of these ships—started recently at Newport News, Va., and not yet named—is being built.

SOME DELAY
The navy had only the roughest idea how extensively the Constellation would be damaged. Officials said that at best its entry into service would be delayed for many months.

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask. (CP)—Fluoride tablets for preschool children will be distributed in this area as part of a province-wide program for the prevention of dental disease. Dr. C. F. Q. Hames, regional medical health officer, said Monday.

'A Lost Month'

OTTAWA (UPI)—A senator accused Parliament Monday of having spent "not a lost weekend but a lost month" in its failure to arrive at any solution for unemployment.

Liberal leader W. Ross MacDonald was criticizing the Conservative government's bill to establish a national productivity council.

NOTHING ARRIVED
He charged that, apart from the winter works program for which no legislation was needed, no measures for immediate improvement of the plight of the nation's jobless had arrived.

He said the government's bill to aid technical training actually was a retrograde step, since it submitted for an existing statute which empowered the government to contribute 100 per cent towards the cost of technical education, a statute which placed a ceiling of 75 per cent.

The Liberal leader also declared, on the question of efficiency of technical training as a long-term unemployment cure-all, that 135,000 of the unemployed are skilled workers, but the number of existing vacancies in this category totals only 10,000.

"Talk about a lost weekend! This last month in Parliament has been not a lost weekend but a lost month," he said. "There has been just nothing accomplished."

A Sorry Role

THE bill providing for a productivity council has been passed by Parliament. This is the council designed to enlist the advice of business, labor and industry in framing policies for the good of the country. The manner of its passing is worth noting.

No one on the opposition benches had a good word to say for the bill; from the spate of objections in fact logic would suggest that only government members should have voted for it. A mere two of the opposition benches, however, both CCF members, had the courage of their convictions. They backed their opinions by an adverse vote.

The Liberal record in this debate therefore shows up as empty words, fashioned only to oppose a government measure. Their excusing plea at the end that the measure was better than nothing at all was specious argument; if the bill was as inadequate as they maintained with long-winded rhetoric, they should have stuck to their principles.

This of course they were afraid to do. They know perfectly well that the bill is a good one, and that its long-range effects should be beneficial. They know too that were they in power themselves they could not cure unemployment overnight any more than can the Diefenbaker administration. Short of conscriptive control of men, money and all phases of national life no government can guarantee total employment. And probably not even then.

It suits the Liberal book, however, to hammer away at unemployment without ever offering a constructive suggestion to alleviate it. Not having responsibility it can be irresponsible, and its attitude in the debate in question makes this amply clear.

When the chips were down and it came to casting a vote they dared not oppose the bill; the public would remember that they blocked a well-meaning piece of legislation. So in spite of all their high-sounding platitudes of dissent they concurred. Their role was a sorry one.

Setback For New Party

THE first major fracture in British Columbia in the solidarity of the trade union movement as a result of organized labor's adventure into partisan politics has been caused by the B.C. Government Employees' Association's now confirmed decision to have nothing more to do with the B.C. Federation of Labor.

Though attempts may be made to ignore or make light of it, this evidence of disaffection by one of the most influential organizations of employees in the province is a body blow to the moulders of the New Party. Though small in relation to the total labor force of the province, the BCGEA is a group whose membership in the federation was highly prized.

What must be more disconcerting to the organizers of the New Party than this loss of several thousand men and women is the possibility, the acute danger, that the association's withdrawal from the Federation of Labor may be taken as an example by other unions and guilds uncertain about the propriety of mixing labor and politics.

In the secret ballot taken by the BCBEA the weight of numbers in favor of separation from the federation, and therefore from the New Party, is impressive. The vote was almost four to one against renewal of affiliation, temporarily suspended pending the ballot.

This result is undoubtedly a demonstration also of the shrewdness of Premier Bennett in revoking the association's dues checkoff privilege when the federation became actively involved in party politics. By doing so the government acted entirely properly, since involvement even indirectly in partisan politics is contrary not only to the association's own constitution but to all accepted principles of public service. As long as the BCGEA remained connected to the federation it forfeited all claim to the privilege of dues deduction.

In case an attempt should be made to show that the decision was dictated more by financial convenience than by considerations of principle it should be noted that this was a vote of the rank and file, to whom the collection of dues is of much less importance than it is to the association's treasury. The obvious interpretation of the result is that the great majority voted under the dictates of conscience, plus resentment against being dragged into political activity in support of a line abhorred by many.

The Plot That Failed

THE attempt to set up a revolutionary government in Ethiopia while the emperor was absent failed badly. It took only word of Haile Selassie's impending return for it to disintegrate. The Lion of Judah entered Addis Ababa to the acclaim of his subjects and the revolutionaries fled.

The diminutive monarch, known the world over because of his stirring if ineffectual appeal to the League of Nations when Italy overran his country in 1935, is still the power on his ancient throne. It is an ironic footnote to history that had the League acted on his behalf in 1935 the present world turmoil might not have resulted.

There will perhaps be a presage of things to come in this unsuccessful coup—when Haile Selassie is no longer at the helm. According to Ethiopian lights the emperor has been an enlightened ruler but he is nevertheless an absolute one. The climate of African opinion is for political control on a popular suffrage, and Ethiopia can scarcely escape the developments taking place all round it.

Emperor Selassie has proved himself a strong man, both in the defence of his monarchy and of his country, but as is so often the case when one man rule ceases the succession is liable to drastic change. It does not seem that the crown prince heir-apparent, absorbed by the emperor but nevertheless used by the revolutionaries, would have either the status or the strength of character to carry on where Haile Selassie left off. Meantime, however, the Lion of Judah has easily discomfited his enemies.

Interpreting the News

Second Thoughts on OECD

By DAVE OANCIA, Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOBERING second thoughts have somewhat dampened the initial outburst of enthusiasm that greeted the birth in Paris of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development.

Canada and the United States have agreed to become full members of the new body.

In the old organization for European economic co-operation the two North American powers would agree to be no more than associate members.

OEEC has an honorable record of useful work in helping put European countries back on their feet, thus freeing them from the need for American aid.

OECD, its successor, is asked to do no less than to make the industrialized nations of the West even more prosperous and to help needy countries of the world become prosperous for the first time.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming of Canada hailed OECD as an entity that would impart "new significance and strength to the Atlantic bond."

British Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd described the birth as a "milestone" and U.S. Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon as the dawn of a new era of international co-operation.

The economic pundits now are wondering whether some of this language wasn't just a bit too extravagant.

They posed this question: "What will OECD do to promote its admirable aims?"

The Guardian notes the new organization imposes few obligations on its members.

"It has no executive powers, and even its powers over trade affairs will be less than those of OEEC—largely because the Americans and the French were unwilling to accept an obligation to co-ordinate their economic policies with those of other members," says the newspaper.

Canada, too, was not in favor of taking on this obligation.

"Instead," adds the Guardian, "There will be frequent confrontations" of the policies of member nations.

Thus, in the final analysis, the success of OECD will depend on the willingness of every individual member to consider in drafting their own policies the good of all nations as a whole.

And this raises a question that will have to be answered when a concrete problem comes up—such as the American dollar difficulties. The big question is whether OECD member nations will take steps to help which may not coincide with their own national or selfish interests.

Thinking Aloud

... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THERE is no more welcome figure at the front door than the postman. He is the medium by which friends far apart keep in touch with one another, the bearer of fresh and sometimes unexpected news.

And of course at this time of the year his approach is eagerly looked for, as the agent whose bulging bag spreads Christmas cheer around. If there were no postal delivery the Yuletide would be a much duller season.

A postman, then, is a person of some consequence, albeit we are apt to take him for granted and thus not do him justice.

He has an ancient heritage, too. Something of his origin is contained in a note from the U.K. Information Service, taking account of the current 300th anniversary of the British Post Office, our own postal parent.

Postal delivery was vastly different in the reign of Charles II, which was when its official history began. Mounted boys trotted their ponies to deliver the mails, for instance, and I'm sure Victoria postmen wished these days they had ponies at their disposal.

But the postal business goes back about 600 years to the first Elizabeth, who appointed one Thomas Randolph to be master of the queen's posts. The commonality didn't write to one another as they do now but the Elizabethans were commercial enterprisers, and Randolph's trade flourished.

As a matter of fact he took this job to supplement his salary from other sources, so I suppose he was a moonlighter. Once moonlighting represented initiative and laudable endeavor but it is now becoming suspect.

It was to private mailmen like Randolph that early postal development was due. A contemporary of his started regular parcel delivery between England and the Continent, and so set international exchange in fashion.

Charles II made postal business official but his was an easy-going era and privateers wormed their way in. One ingenious character began his own "penny post" by spotting private post offices across London. His method was simple. His messengers collected and delivered only in a paying area. The out-of-town letters, too expensive to handle, he passed over to the official post office.

Modern postal practice came with the introduction by Rowland Hill in 1840 of the uniform penny post, irrespective of distance. His first gummed stamp, the famous "Penny Black," is a collector's treasure.

Strangely enough, his penny post lost him his job. Perhaps the commonality were suspicious of such benevolence, but anyway postal revenues declined. They picked up again later however as the idea became popular, and Hill got his job back and a knighthood to boot.

It is a far cry from even 1840 to 1960, when electronic devices and other mechanical marvels make possible rapid distribution of a modern mountain of mail. And mountain it is, Christmas or no Christmas. A perpetual wonder is the celerity and certainty with which letters and packages may be conveyed all over the known world.

And at the funnel end of the system the postman is still supreme. As it was in the beginning so it is today. While you may be reading this, perhaps, you'll be keeping an ear alert for his knock.

A welcome figure, is the postman.

Reports from Ottawa

THE nation's architects are gambling $15,000 that their "royal commission" report will not be buried and forgotten on library shelves like the report of many a government royal commission.

The essential results of a year-long study by a three-man committee of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada are 32 recommendations for improving urban housing and living. The architects now want action on them.

To get things moving they are financing a year-long "Operation Improvement." The money, $15,000, is being raised by voluntary contributions from Canada's 2,330 architects. It will be used mainly to organize a co-ordinated assault involving government and its agencies at all levels, and professional, industrial and official organizations embracing the town planners, building contractors, sanitation engineers, communication and transportation authorities, sources of housing finance, agronomists and others.

The goal is the lifting of standards for housing and area development so that existing evils such as overhead street wiring can be ameliorated, and so that new residential areas to be created in the years ahead will avoid the design deficiencies, monotony and other shortcomings that characterize much of the post-war housing. More simply, their goal is to enable Canadians to live better.

This won't be achieved in one year, but the 1961 program contains the seed of its own regeneration. One of the recommendations is that a Canadian Institute of Urban Studies be established under the wing of a metropolitan university — Toronto, perhaps, or McGill.

Robbins L. Elliott, executive director of the RAIC, sees the institute as a counterpart of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs. It will undertake research studies in the fields indicated by the RAIC inquiry, and other problems as the need arises. Thus it will be what the RAIC committee of inquiry described as a "national clearing house" of information on urban problems.

"In Canada we're just coming to the realization that we have an urban economy," Robbins told me. "An increasingly large proportion of the population lives in cities, and the higher the percentage the more complicated become the problems of the urban structure. So we shall have to improve the machinery for operating this structure—and that means more trained people."

During 1961 an interim committee will tie up the loose ends of the institute plan, preparatory to what may develop as a full-blown conference of all governments and organizations involved in urban problems and their solution.

The launching of the institute will require not only a lot of money, but assured continuity of revenues. Its concern will be Canada in 2070 as well as Canada in 1970. So the RAIC is seeking a continuing grant from one of the large U.S. foundations, such as the Ford Foundation, which might be matched by funds subscribed in Canada. In light of the problems pointed up by the RAIC inquiry, it would seem that a budget of perhaps $100,000 a year would be required for even a rather modest program for the new institute.

Freedom from Thought

By GREGORY CLARK

"T was like a haunted house," said one of my lady friends, describing what it was like the other day when her radio and TV both went out of order. "It was creepy."

A slight explosion in the oil furnace caused a fire in the basement of her home, and by the time the firemen got it out, the electric fuse boxes and wiring were so damaged that it was two whole days before the electricians got everything back to normal.

"I had no idea how enslaved I was to my TV and the radio," she said. "The silence in the house was so weird. There was nothing to do. I tried reading, but I couldn't keep my mind on it. I kept thinking. I started thinking about all sorts of things, about the Congo and about the unemployment problem and things like that. There was nothing else to do. Then I started thinking about my friends and my family, and all kinds of personal things. It was awful. You have no idea what a blessing TV and radio are. They keep you from thinking."

Tranquility, freedom from thought, that's the consummation devoutly to be wished, O nineteenth-sixties, whether with pills, jazz, top pop or soap opera!

Too Much Nationalism

(From The Halifax Mail-Star)

IN his first address on campus as Dean of Arts and Science at Dalhousie University, the Hon. Henry Hicks referred to one of the more pressing problems in the world today.

"We are in a world too occupied with nationalism," Dean Hicks told students. The fact that the globe could be circumnavigated in a matter of hours alone made us more interdependent; indeed, in our view, it makes an excessive nationalism all the more troublesome these days.

No one, of course, wishes to criticize patriotism, that sense of duty to towards the country which shelters the person, and which makes possible an organization of one's life on a rational basis. It is instead that parochialism on the grand scale which suspects others, freely attributes to, or grossly exaggerates, ludicrous or even reprehensible characteristics of people other than one's own, which is the mischievous thing in our view.

The point is that, although far short of that jingoism which used to advocate "preventive war" or which, in Africa, offends a United Nations bent on offering help, this preoccupation with our own virtues is exceedingly dangerous. It helps to mould those false stereotypes of other peoples in other lands which make it difficult, if not impossible, to understand and to co-operate with them at a time when, more than ever, such is demanded.

From the Scriptures

This Jesus God hath raised up, whereof we are all witnesses.—Acts 2:32.

Washington Angle

Top-Level Team

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THERE is widespread agreement in Washington that President-elect Kennedy has made a wise choice in Dean Rusk for secretary of state.

The selection is based on the premise that the new president will have a far more important voice in the direct formulation of foreign policy than President Eisenhower or former President Truman. The latter relied heavily on Dean Acheson and President Eisenhower gave to the late John Foster Dulles almost total authority over foreign policy.

Since he is, within the inevitable limits of the wide range of demands on a president, determined to be his own secretary of state, it is best to have at his side a skilled and able expert rather than a prominent national figure who might overshadow the president himself. Rusk has the ability, the background, the quiet authority, the stamina and the endurance to succeed, if anyone can succeed, in an office that has become almost as impossible as the presidency itself.

The many admirers of Adlai Stevenson who worked hard and long, as did Stevenson himself, for Kennedy's election will be disappointed. Many heads of government and foreign ministers in every part of the world had cherished the same hope for Stevenson.

But Stevenson in the office would have precisely the same handicap of being a figure of world stature with well-advised views on almost every aspect of foreign policy. There would always be the question of whether decisions taken were his or the president's.

Rusk is far from being a prima donna. He has shown again and again that he can work with others in quiet co-operation. One of his outstanding qualities is his quiet and effective workmanship in whatever task he undertakes. In his most critical government role to date—assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs during the Korean War—Rusk played an effective part while keeping clear of the damaging public controversies.

He will unquestionably give Stevenson all possible latitude as ambassador to the United Nations. That task is in itself an overwhelming one as it becomes more and more evident that the very existence of the UN is at stake in the cold war and its spreading complications in the Congo and throughout Africa. Stevenson can assume a very important part of the burden of foreign policy and with the sanction of the president and the secretary of state give full play to his notable talents.

The team of Rusk, Stevenson and Chester Bowles is an impressive one. Each brings a conspicuous quality to the effort to give vigor and strength to American foreign policy in a revolutionary era. They should complement each other in a successful working arrangement.

Bowles' specialty is the underdeveloped countries and the imperative need to raise living standards as quickly as possible if communism is not to take over by default. His experience as ambassador to India along with his widespread travel in Southeast Asia will stand him in good stead as under secretary.

Pressures had been put on the president-elect to hasten his selections in the foreign field so that his secretary of state and other appointees could begin to work with the outgoing administration. But since the Eisenhower administration has itself so long delayed vital decisions such as steps necessary to try to curb the outflow of gold, there was little advantage in making hasty appointments.

Kennedy has shown common sense in taking his time. The result is a top-level operating group that should be able to move forward without any hesitation. They all have wide first-hand experience and, what is equally important, they have all shown their understanding of the nature of the revolution that is sweeping across the world.

A PSYCHIATRIST has recently stated that the violin is the ideal instrument to take on board when one travels in space. It will prevent tedium, he says, and provide pleasure.

It is, of course, hard to say right at this time if he is right. As far as we know, neither of the Russian dogs was particularly musically inclined. But we are prepared to bet that there are at this time thousands of parents of would-be maestros who would be quite prepared to give a berth in a space ship to every violin on earth.

Red carpet

Missiles in Canada 'Can Kayo Russia'

OTTAWA (CP)—Officers at air force headquarters have been reading with open mouths a U.S. magazine article describing the RCAF base at Cold Lake, Alta., as capable of unleashing thousands of missiles at the heart of Russia.

But their astonishment turned almost to incredulity when a portion of the article saying Cold Lake is the most potent weapon the West has to answer any Soviet attack appeared in the U.S. Congressional record.

It was inserted by Sen. Estes Kefauver, who was apparently only trying to tell his colleagues what a grand and powerful ally the U.S. had in Canada.

Chances are External Affairs Minister Green will not be amused by the Police Gazette article.

It is known the RCAF had nothing to do with the article and the author never visited Cold Lake, 150 miles northeast of Edmonton.

One officer said the article was too ludicrous to comment on.

It carried these headings: "Why Khrushchev Sees Red

—The Missile Base That Can Kayo Russia!"

"Push-button warfare is a reality at Cold Lake. In seconds thousands of missiles and rockets can penetrate the heart of Soviet defences."

Actually, Cold Lake includes a weapons range for the testing of air-to-air and ground-to-air missiles and rockets with ranges of three or four miles at a maximum. It also trains CF-100 jet crews and has a radar station.

The Police Gazette said Cold Lake will eventually accommodate 250,000 men, 20,000 planes on 20 airfields and 100,000 missiles and rockets.

In fact, there are some 2,000 RCAF personnel there—and not a single operational squadron.

Ottawa Acts

Estate 'Mess' Probed

OTTAWA (CP)—The government will prosecute bankruptcy trustees involved in estates and tighten up the Bankruptcy Act, Justice Minister Fulton said in the Commons Monday.

He spoke while asking for Commons approval of a $50,000 vote to pay for special lawyers and accountants hired to untangle irregularities.

Mr. Fulton gave no details and spoke only in general terms about the bankruptcy cases. He said, however, they dated from prior to 1957, when the Conservatives were elected.

The RCMP was instructed to seize files. One prosecutor was originally intended to handle the court cases.

FURTHER LOOK

But when the department looked further into the cases it found "so many hundreds of estates involved," and the web so tangled, additional legal and accountancy service was needed.

Mr. Fulton said none of the cases of irregularities with trustees in bankruptcy was in B.C. He would consider if discharges from bankruptcy are given too leniently by the courts.

UN Ballot in Algeria Loses on Tie Vote

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The UN General Assembly Monday voted down Afro-Asian proposals for a UN referendum in Algeria to decide the political future of that French-ruled region.

But the assembly, in its first resolution since 1957 on the Algerian question, held the Algerian people had the right to independence and the UN had a responsibility to help them determine their own destiny.

DE GAULLE PLAN

Backers of the Algerian rebels lost their fight for a UN role in the self-determination referendum of Charles de Gaulle.

But they won much more than they got in the assembly's only two previous decisions on the subject in 1956 and 1957.

KEY PARAGRAPH

The resolution went through by a vote of 63 to 8, with 27 abstentions. The key paragraph failed, however, on a 40-to-40 tie, with 16 abstentions.

Canada voted "yes" on the resolutions as a whole and "no" on the key paragraph.

NOT ENOUGH

The paragraph had passed the assembly's political committee last Thursday 38 to 33—enough to get it through there but less than the two-thirds vote needed in the assembly.

It would have had the assembly decide "that a referendum shall be conducted in Algeria, organized, controlled and supervised by the United Nations," to let the people choose their future.

Before voting on that, the assembly rejected a watered-down amendment by Cyprus that would have had the assembly recommend—rather than decide—"that a referendum be held in Algeria under the auspices of the United Nations."

France boycotted the voting as she had boycotted the de-

Canada Attacks

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Soviet-bloc attacks on UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld were denounced as "mendacious invective" by Canada in the UN assembly Monday.

Wallace Nesbitt, vice-chairman of the Canadian delegation, said:

INCLUDE CANADA

"Superficially these attacks have been directed at the secretary-general and at alleged imperialist intrigue of the NATO allies. This must include my country. But who, I wonder, could honestly believe that Canada has imperialist or aggressive designs against the Congo?"

REAL GOALS

The real objectives of the Soviet bloc are "to achieve control where they can; to subvert what they can't control; and to destroy what they subvert to their own ends."

Canada backed an Anglo-American resolution which urges Hammarskjöld to help Congolese President Kasavubu reopen parliament as an essential step in restoring peace and order.

High Taxes With Us Always 'Indisputable Fact' for Canada

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Tax Journal has expressed concern with what it terms "the rather simple faith implied in many recent public utterances in the efficacy of tinkering with the tax system as a cure for our present economic woes."

The journal, publication of the Canadian Tax Foundation, adds:

"Perhaps some changes can be introduced to effect minor shifts in the tax burden to encourage an industry or region or to stimulate consumer spending, but all these are merely trimming and snipping."

"The indisputable and apparently unchangeable fact is that as a result of the adoption of a new philosophy of government in the last decade, we now have assumed a burden of public expenditure which requires maintaining taxes at a high level. This development in the large can be described as the arrival of the welfare state.

"This is the plain fact of today's taxes and perhaps at long last we must simply accept it as being the over-all condition with which we must live for the foreseeable future."

Counting the Ballots

It seems to me that the method of counting the ballots at the civic elections in Victoria requires to be reviewed. In the most recent civic election the counting of ballots commenced immediately after the closing of the polls on Thursday and, in the case of two candidates, continued until late on Friday night. Six counts were taken; sometimes one candidate was in front and sometimes the other, and each count produced a different number of total votes cast.

There is little wonder why the candidates were not satisfied with the results and asked for a recount.

It is hoped before another civic election takes place in Victoria that a more foolproof system of counting ballots will be adopted. The present one leaves much to be desired.

HAVANA (UPI) — New anti-Castro bombings shook Havana Monday and dispatches from the interior reported many acts of sabotage against government sugar land holdings.

More than a dozen explosions awakened greater Havana residents. Effect of the bombings seemed psychological. Little damage was reported.

Reports from central Cuba, eastern Camaguey province, said sugar cane fields had been put to the torch in four districts.

Store-Hour Bylaw Starts Soon

Esquimalt council met briefly last night to give formal approval to its bylaw allowing stores to remain open any hours Monday to Friday.

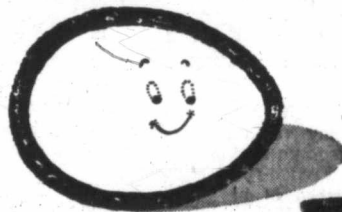

Statutory holidays are an exception, and council has made it clear local storekeepers who remain open on holidays starting Jan. 2 will be liable to prosecution.

The bylaw comes into effect Jan. 1, but council has no jurisdiction over store opening on Sunday, a federal matter. It replaces present regulations which allow Monday noon closing, with stores remaining open to 9 p.m. Friday and 6 p.m. on other week nights.

Reeve A. C. Wurtel said full text of the new bylaw would be advertised soon — "It's only right that the public be thoroughly informed." Any storekeeper in doubt about the new regulations should contact the municipal clerk.

U.S. Firm Offers to Sell Canada Plant to Canadians

DETROIT (AP) — President George Romney of American Motors Monday offered to sell his company's new Canadian plant to Canadians.

Romney said the company has reviewed its plans under which it will open a Canadian assembly plant next month.

"I will tell the Canadian people then that as soon as they want to invest in American Motors' operations in Canada we'll let them do it. And if they want to buy control of the operation we'll let them do that, too."

The plant is in Brampton, Ont.

Job Insurance Charges Admitted

Two fines of $25 each were levied on Paolo Zorzenone, 1918 Rockland, when he pleaded guilty in city police court yesterday to charges laid under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

He pleaded guilty before Magistrate William Ostler to separate counts of giving false information concerning earnings when applying for unemployment insurance on two occasions in 1959.

DALLAS (UPI)—The man who led the way for the first atomic bomb attack said Monday guilt feelings haunted him and kept him from sleep for 15 years.

Former air force Maj. Claude Eatherly, whose guilt feelings about the raids on Hiroshima and Nagasaki drove him to a post war life of crime, was arrested when he ran his car through a stop sign.

ALIEN OWNERS

A law passed in 1907 by the Bermuda Parliament forbids ownership of more than one-tenth of the 22-mile-long island by aliens.

Guilt Killed Sleep for A-Bomb Guide

Eatherly flew a reconnaissance plane that found a hole atomic bomb in the clouds over Hiroshima. He thought of Pearl Harbor Aug. 6, 1945. He showed the way for the bomber Enola he said.

"After I saw the destruction, I didn't want to go over that," he said with a snap of months. "I went," his fingers. "I haven't had any sleep in but I'm learning to live with it. All this publicity hurts me."

It's awful, there's no peace. They all recognize me. Eatherly plans to write a book about his pacifist feelings.

First Time on 'Outside'

Prisoner Addresses Club

For the first time in the history of Canada's penal system a penitentiary prisoner was guest speaker on the "outside" here in Victoria during the weekend.

Occasion was the Christmas banquet of the Dale Carnegie Alumni, Victoria branch.

Warden Harry Collins of the open prison, who accompanied the inmate, told of this being the first time such a thing had happened "and," he added, "I am proud we should have been asked to take the lead."

"There is a Dale Carnegie speaking class at William Head, and graduates of each class become next year's alumni."
"The man who accompanied me to the banquet is president of bobbing morale in our penitentiary."

This year," Mr. Collins continued.

"We both had a most enjoyable time. I would like to see more of this kind of hospitality. It is a wonderful way

Details of this party were arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Parkin.

Warden Collins said an other Christmas party will be given at the institution this week by the William Head Alcoholics Anonymous group.

Famous B.C. Fort On Drawing Board

Another B.C. gold-mining town is to be restored as a tourist attraction.

The provincial committee which restored Barkerville now is working on plans to rebuild Fort Steele, northeast of Cranbrook. It will be a composite of a gold town, fur-trading post and first fort of the Northwest Mounted west of the Rockies.

Shouts 'Nothing at All'

Lonely Little Negro Girl Pays No Attention Now

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The mother of the lone Negro pupil going to integrated William Frantz School says her daughter asked her what the women pickets were shouting about outside the school.

The demonstrators are down to a handful during blustery weather. But U.S. marshals still accompany the six-year-old first-grader—her name is withheld at her parents' request.

"My daughter asked me the first day, what are all the people hollering about?" the mother said.

"I said nothing at all. They're just hollering about nothing."

"She seemed to be a little nervous that first day. But then, I took out her tablet and her pencil and she got busy. And she was all right."

"She knows who the marshals are. But she never asks about crowds any more. I don't think she knows what they're yelling."

The girl said:

"The marshals take me to school. They drive up outside the house. Sometimes, when it's cold, they blow the horn and I run out."

Riders Hold Job for Pop Ivy

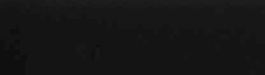

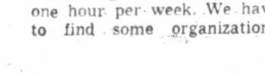

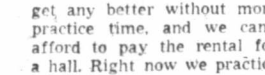

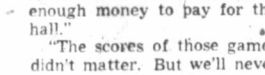

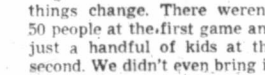

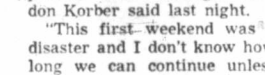

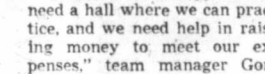

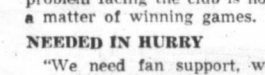

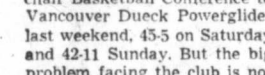

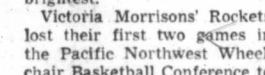

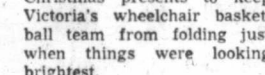

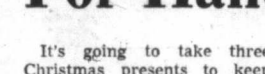

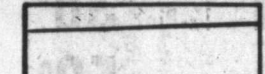

Saskatchewan Roughriders are still hopeful of luring Frank "Pop" Ivy back to the Western Interprovincial Football Union, as their coach for next season.

Rider president Bob Kramer just returned from St. Louis, where Ivy is head coach of the Cardinals of the National Football League.

Although they didn't get a definite commitment from him, Kramer says they aren't closing the door on the possibility of hiring Ivy, who built Edmonton Eskimos into the most powerful team in Canada.

Curling Reporters Eye Scottish Trip

EDMONTON — A trip to Scotland to watch the Scotch Cup playdowns between the Canadian, Scottish and United States curling champions will be the prize for four newspapermen competing in the third annual Western Canada Newsprinters' Curling tournament, scheduled here January 13 and 14.

Announcement of the special award, which had been rumored since the 1960 bonspiel in Winnipeg, was made here yesterday by bonspiel officials.

The expenses-paid Scottish trip will be the prize in a special event open only to employees of newspaper and radio and television newsrooms who declare in advance they will be able to make the trip if they should win.

Final decision on the method of play has not been announced but it is believed that rinks will be made up of one curler from each of four separate provinces and that they will go into a sudden-death knockout for the prize.

Thirty-two rinks are expected to take part in the regular bonspiel, which is open to all employees of newspapers and radio and television stations. They will take part in three events, run on a Chisholm draw.

Cup challenge round Dec. 26-28 to correct a bursitis condition. . . Grey Cup game next season will be played Dec. 2, one week later than usual, if a recommendation by Canada's nine professional football clubs is accepted. They want the week's layoff to allow for working out the new interlocking schedule. . . Former major league pitcher Art Nehf died Sunday of cancer at the age of 68. . . Winnipeg Maroons left last night for a Czechoslovakian hockey tour. . . Horses owned by industrialist E. P. AT THE 19th

With Harry Young

Victoria's most colorful golfing contest, the annual Boxing Day event for the Colonist Christmas Tree Trophy will get under way at Uplands on Monday at 8.15.

The entry of 111 men is the second largest field in the seven-year-old event, and it contains all those players who have won the championship—George Bigelow (three times winner); Vic Painter, Bill McColl and Frank Scroggs.

The draw for the men's section appeared in the Daily Colonist on Sunday. The 1st and 10th tees will be in use, and competitors are asked to be ready to start as soon as starter Johnnie Wren calls their names.

This year, the Colonist was unable to get the use of the Victoria club so that both the men's and ladies' sections are being played at Uplands, and this means that the girls will play only nine holes.

The draw for the ladies' section will appear in the Colonist sports columns on Wednesday.

One of the special attractions of the day is the special prize being put up by the Colonist for anyone who scores a hole-in-one in the competition. The prize is a year's free golf at the player's own club.

The Uplands course provides four chances for a hole-in-one—the 4th, 9th, the 11th and 16th holes—and there is also the outside chance of an extra long drive at either the 15th or 17th holes finding the cup.

The Hudson's Bay Company is loading Santa Claus with a gift for every player. The kindly old gentleman will be at the club house steps to hand over the gifts and accept the cards of the players as they finish their rounds.

As in past years, there will be four main awards. There will be four champions—low gross and low net for both men and women. Each of the four will receive a replica of the Christmas Tree Trophy and each will be invited to give up the ball with which the winning round was played so that it can be inscribed with the player's name and mounted on the main trophy.

Last year, the winners were: Men low gross—Vic Painter; low net—Harold Fosbrooke. Ladies low gross—Mrs. Dorothy Naysmith; low net—Mrs. Keith Olsen.

In addition to the main championship events, there will be five lots of sectional prizes for the men and two lots of sectional prizes for the women.

The prizes will be presented in the clubhouse by Richard J. Bower, editor in chief of the Daily Colonist, as soon as possible after play is completed.

The Uplands club this year has a powerful entry, and with the advantage of home course, Uplands players will be expected to make a strong bid for the leading prizes.

Strong contenders for the men's championship are club captain Gordon Pellow; veteran Bob Morrison, who has won the low net but never the low gross; Frank Scroggs, who won the title in its inaugural year; Claude Heggie, Fred Ranson, John Hadfield and Eric Hibernson.

Bill Wakeham, playing in the event for the first time, is entered from Gorge Vale although he is also a member at Uplands. He and Pellow could be the strongest challengers among those who have not yet won the award.

Doc Bigelow may not be quite such a threat as he is when the contest is played on his own Victoria course, but he is hitting the ball so well that he can not be left out of the reckoning as a fourth time winner.

The Colwood club too has a lot of possibilities, including two previous winners, McColl and Painter. In addition, George Andrews—always thereabouts—and Dr. Roger Ross have the golfing ability for the job on hand.

Particularly pleasing is the number of players from other parts of the province who are taking part. There is the usual contingent from Up-Island clubs and this year Gordon Verley leads a Vancouver group hoping to take one of the major awards from the Island for the first time.

Art Donaldson won the first of the Victoria district winter medals in a way to suggest that as an allround performer he is still the No. 1 man in Vancouver Island golf.

The Island open champion from Gorge Vale took the medal at Gorge Vale Sunday with a one under par 71—very good going on a day of poor conditions—and this gave him a three-stroke advantage over Ron MacLeod, the Jasper pro who was runner-up.

Donaldson's 214 aggregate was three over par. It was made up of 71 at Oak Bay, 72 at Colwood and 71 at Gorge.

George Bigelow, who had smashed his way into a first-round lead of three strokes with a 68 and was tied at 143 with Donaldson going into the final round, took 76 at Gorge. This dropped him into third place at 219.

Other leading aggregates were Norm Boden, Gorge Vale 229; G. Pellow, Uplands, 232 and Vince Wheatley, Gorge, 232. One of the best individual rounds on Sunday was a par 72 by Ted Bradshaw, one of the district's most promising youngsters; a 73 by Claude Heggie of Uplands and 74 by Bill Wakeham.

Bradshaw won the low net prize with 68, while Wheatley, Reg Hoadley and C. Heggie were joint runners-up with 71.

Cougars Tighten Up Defence To Get Back on Right Track

WINNIPEG—Victoria Cougars, who had yielded 13 goals in their last two games, did an about face here Monday night by throwing up a tough defence to hold off Winnipeg Warriors, 4-1, in a Western Hockey League game played before 3,000 fans.

It was the second win in five games the Cougars have played on a seven-game road trip and it moved them four points ahead of the trailing Warriors and within four points of fourth place.

For the Warriors, it was a seventh successive defeat in a winless streak which has now reached 10 games—nine setbacks and a tie. Cougars, as usual, dropped behind in the early going when Gordie Labossiere opened the scoring in the third minute of the first period. It was Labossiere's first point since he was traded to Winnipeg for Ray Brunel early this month—a period of seven games.

DEFENCEMEN SCORE

But Victoria defencemen came up with the tying and winning goals as the Cougars came back strongly in the second period with three goals. Wayne North started the surge when he drove a rebound past Harry Lumley and Jim Hay drove a screened shot into 11th goal in the last minute of play.

A repeat meeting is scheduled here Wednesday night, and then the Cougars head back to the Pacific Coast for a Friday game against the Canucks at Vancouver and a Boxing Day clash with the Portland Buckaroos in Victoria.

Canucks Given Checking Lesson

Check, check, check is the story of Vancouver's hockey success but the Canucks got a taste of their own medicine on Sunday night at Portland, where the Buckaroos came from behind for a 3-2 decision which extended their winning streak to eight games.

Canucks were held to three shots in the first period and four in the third as the Buckaroos gave rookie Don Head the kind of protection goalkeepers dream about.

Only in the second period, when Danny Belisle put Vancouver in front, 2-1, could the Canucks do anything against persistent checking. In the third period, Larry Leach deflected a shot by Ron Matthews to tie it up and Bill McCulley slammed in a passout from Gordie Haworth to win it.

In Sunday's other game, Edmonton's skidding Flyers were beaten for the sixth time in seven games when defencemen Tom Hodges' second goal, after only 29 seconds of extra time, gave Spokane Comets a 4-3 win.

Over First Hurdle

Carrying hopes of Victoria Curling Club in provincial championships fell to the lot of above quartet last night when it won seventh straight game in nine-rink round-robin playdown. From top to bottom: Vice-skip Gary Leibel, lead Corky Davis, skip Tony Gutoski and second Gordie Robertson. They meet four other club champions in Island final next month.

Gutoski Rink Advances To Zone Curling Finals

Once again a rink skipped by Tony Gutoski will represent the Victoria Curling Club in the zone playdowns leading to the British Columbia championships.

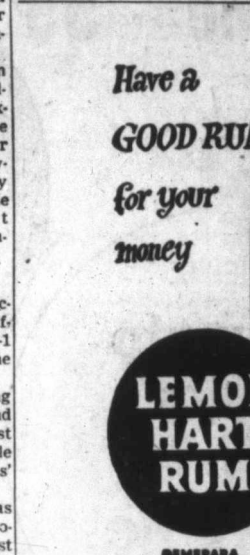

Gutoski and his steady crew of Gary Leibel, Gordie Robertson and Corky Davis made the first step on the road to the Canadian title last night by trimming Steve Hayhurst, 11-3, for a victory which eliminated the last three of the other eight Victoria rinks who entered the playdowns.

The win was the seventh in a row for Gutoski in the round-robin series, and it unexpectedly turned out to be one of his easiest. Losing their last chance in addition to Hayhurst was light with both draws.

Last hope vanished on the seventh end when Gutoski again got shot rock guarded and counted one more. Hayhurst got his third point on the eighth end but conceded when Gutoski, who replied with one on the ninth, stole another pair on the 10th.

Season Hangs in Balance For Handicapped Hoopmen

It's going to take three Christmas presents to keep Victoria's wheelchair basketball team from folding just when things were looking brightest.

Victoria Morrisons' Rockets lost their first two games in the Pacific Northwest Wheelchair Basketball Conference to Vancouver Duex Powerglides last weekend, 45-5 on Saturday and 42-11 Sunday. But the big problem facing the club is not a matter of winning games.

NEEDED IN HURRY

"We need fan support, we need a hall where we can practice, and we need help in raising money to meet our expenses," team manager Gordon Korber said last night.

"This first weekend was a disaster and I don't know how long we can continue unless things change. There weren't 50 people at the first game and just a handful of kids at the second. We didn't even bring in enough money to pay for the hall."

The scores of those games didn't matter. But we'll never get any better without more practice time, and we can't afford to pay the rental for a hall. Right now we practice the one hour per week. We have 50-yard freestyle for boys 16 to find some organizations and under.

that would let us use their hall for an hour or so one or two nights a week."

Mary-Helen Big Winner

Mary-Helen Johaneson won three trophies last night in the annual Victoria Amateur Swimming Club championships.

Miss Johaneson, 13, won the Armstrong Trophy in the 14-and-under 50-yard freestyle; the VASC Cup for the ladies' open 100-yard freestyle, and the Dobson Trophy for 100-yard backstroke in the 16-and-under class.

About 200 swimmers took part in the competition.

Nancy Robson won the Hiberson Memorial Cup in the 50-yard freestyle for girls 12 and under; Grant Tilgar took the Stanger Memorial Cup for boys 12-and-under 50-yard freestyle; Paul Poulin won the VASC Executive Cup for junior boys 50-yard freestyle; and Monty Holding captured the Hiberson Cup in the 100-yard freestyle for boys 16

Rockets have been playing for two seasons, but are making their first start in the new inter-city conference, which could give their sport its biggest boost yet. But with little support have come big financial problems.

BUDGET IS $800

"Our budget for the season, to make our trips to the other cities and cover all expenses, is $800," Korber explained. "That's money that must come in, not money we have. Frankly I don't know where it's going to come unless we find some people who would like to play Santa Claus and help out."

First trip for Rockets will be Jan. 14-15, when they play Flyers in Seattle. Other team in the league is Tacoma Wheelers. Each team plays 12 games, travelling once to each of the other cities for two games.

At the moment Rockets have eight players, two from Duncan who drive down every week for practices. They could use five or six more.

The team could also use extra chairs or parts of chairs. Korber is waiting at the telephone for help. The number is EV 4-6960.

Scottish Shove Leaders

While Evcoes and Kickers are playing snakes and ladders for first place, another power is making its presence felt in the Victoria and District Football League.

Canadian Scottish has been climbing steadily through the standings of late, and with Sunday's 3-1 victory over Victoria West are in third place.

two points up on Saanich Thistles and only two back of Evcoes. They have won three and tied two of their last five games.

Theo Koenig, Don Hughes and Ernie Eastlake scored for Scots Sunday, with Robin Barnes replying for Wests. Meanwhile Thistles shut out Esquimalt, 6-0, on two-goal efforts by Leroy Bond and Stan Wiseman and single goals from Glen Robbins and Klaus Hyde.

Kickers, who lost first place briefly when Evcoes won on Saturday, got it back Sunday with a 5-2 win over Heaneys as scoring leader Mel Cooper added his 25th and 26th goals in 12 games.

Henri Vanderhorst also scored twice for Kickers and Dick Nellesjin scored the other goal. Al Boden fired both goals for Heaneys.

Chummy Crabbe scored twice and Archie MacMillan once for Gorge Hill to give the Pubmen a 3-3 draw with Ladysmith. Jim Irvine, George Johnson and Glen Hughes scored for Ladysmith.

pearing to have a chance to topple the mighty Montreal Canadiens.

While Canadiens have roared along with 10 victories in 11 games, Leafs have clung doggedly to their heels and maintained quite a pace themselves despite losses of key personnel. They have won six, tied one and lost two of their past nine games, and haven't lost to anyone but the Canadiens since Nov. 27, when they were shut out, 2-0, by Detroit Red Wings.

The two losses in the nine-game string were handed them by the Habs—6-3 on Dec. 1 and 5-2 on Dec. 7. Last Thursday they got one back, beating Montreal, 4-2.

As a result of their fine play, spearheaded by the scoring heroics of big Frank Mahovlich, Leafs are six points back of Canadiens, still within reach. The third-place Wings are 10 points off the pace.

BOOMING ALONG

The 22-year-old Mahovlich scored his 29th goal of the season Sunday while Leafs edged New York Rangers, 3-2. He still leads the league in that department, but Bernie Geoffrion of the Habs is keeping pace and is the game's hottest scorer at the moment.

Geoffrion scored his 24th goal in Montreal's 4-2 win over Boston Bruins Sunday, moving within one of teammate Dickie Moore. He has now scored at least once in eight consecutive games, just one shy of the record held by Montreal's Maurice Richard in 1944-45.

And in their last five winning games, it has been Geoffrion who scored the winning goal for Canadiens.

Gordie Howe also made scoring news, continuing his recent surge with his 9th and 10th of the season in Detroit's 3-2 win over the faltering Chicago Black Hawks. Howe has scored five times in his last four games. The goals brought his lifetime total to 456, only 88 behind the record held by Richard.

Leafs got some great goaltending from veteran Johnny Bower, who made 37 stops as Toronto extended its unbeaten streak to five games. Red Kelly and Bob Pulford scored the other goals, and Johnny Wilson and Pat Hannigan scored for Rangers. Hannigan's goal was his first in the NHL.

Terry Sawchuk started in Detroit's victory, making 49 saves, 22 of them in a hectic third period as the Hawks went all-out for the tying goal.

Commercial Curlers Get Another Chance

Deadline for entries in the annual Commercial Borspial at the Victoria Curling Club has been extended until this evening at 6 o'clock.

Total entry last night was 64 rinks and officials hope that the final total will reach at least 70 rinks.

This will enable the three-event borspial to be run off between Boxing Day and Dec. 30 without late draws and enable curlers who have to work on Tuesday, Dec. 27, to avoid curling during the day.

First draw will be held at 8 p.m. on Boxing Day, next Monday, and there will be curling throughout the day. There will also be daytime curling on Tuesday for rinks which can play, and the borspial will be completed with evening curling only on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with the prize-giving and a dance to follow.

Rinks must be made up of curlers from the same commercial league who have played a minimum of four games, and curlers must play their regular position or higher. No more than two active members of the Victoria Curling Club are eligible, and one of these must play either second or lead rocks.

Entry may be made at the Victoria Curling Club. The draw will be made on Wednesday evening.

UN Debates Congo Into Early Hours

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The United Nations General Assembly debated the Congo crisis into the early hours today after a warning from Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld that he might ask for power to pull out the UN force if civil war flares in the chaotic young republic.

The secretary-general intervened in the debate after a Congolese delegate accused Ghana and India of promoting a Soviet-inspired plan to seize control of The Congo.

Integration Years Away

OTTAWA (CP) — It will still require many years to achieve complete integration of Canadian Indian students into the regular school system, Citizenship Minister Fairclough said in the Commons Monday.

She spoke in response to an appeal by Frank Howard (CCF, Skeena) for elimination of all special Indian day and residential schools administered by the federal government. He said Indian students should attend the same schools as non-Indians and be fully added.

Russia Helps Cuba In Battle With U.S.

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Cuba won Russian assurances of help in its economic battle with the U.S. during trade talks here, a Soviet-Cuba communique disclosed Monday.

The Soviet Union agreed to do its utmost to secure supplies of vital goods for the Cuban economy which could not be purchased elsewhere.

Russia also expressed its readiness to buy 2,700,000 tons of sugar from Cuba if the U.S. carries out its threat not to buy Cuban sugar. This would be roughly half the Cuban crop.

Both countries denounced the "militaristic policy of imperialism whose main exponents are the monopoly quarters of the United States."

$72,900,000 UN Budget For 1961

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly budget committee Monday voted 54 to 9 for a $72,900,000 gross budget for 1961, nearly $10,000,000 more than the 1960 figure.

About $3,000,000 in cash income will reduce the 1961 total.

The Soviet Union, reiterating its insistence that $50,000,000 is enough, voted against the budget.

The budget does not include the cost of the Congo operation or that of the UN emergency force in the Middle East.

Not Far Apart Despite Clash

Coun. John Watts thinks he and Reeve George Murdoch aren't far apart in their thinking on the controversial issue of pay for Oak Bay council members — despite the reeve's earlier "tempest in a teapot" statement.

Coun. Watts said he assumed from published statements attributed to the reeve in Sunday's Colonist that Reeve Murdoch himself is in favor of some sort of payment to cover out-of-pocket expenses to council members.

"PRECISELY THE POINT" "That is precisely the point I'm trying to make to the public," said Mr. Watts.

"My letter to the ratepayers last Friday was a calm and reasoned exposition of this need. It wasn't a tempest in a teapot at all."

The councillor added he considered the letter "the first time any real explanation had been given" to the pay issue which was voted down by ratepayers when it was put as a referendum Dec. 8.

"ILLOGICAL"

"I was surprised to find myself condemned by the reeve," said Coun. Watts. "It was quite an outburst (but) it seems a little illogical for him to condemn people on one hand, while agreeing with them on the other."

Reeve Murdoch also said earlier the councillor should resign if he felt he couldn't serve without pay. He also opposed a move by Coun. Watts to hold another referendum when the public had a chance to become fully acquainted with the issue.

The reeve said another vote so soon after voters defeated the measure would be a waste of taxpayers' money.

Reeve Murdoch also said he wouldn't have stood for the office of reeve, which he won in 1958 and again in 1959, unless there was an allocation of funds to meet part of the expenses that went with the job.

Bulls See Red When Red Seen

LONDON (CP) — After an exhaustive study, the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has established that bulls definitely see red when they see red.

It is asking British cattle men to repaint all their red cattle pens. Green is best, says the society, and grey is not bad.

The society found that there are "irritating goings-on" in red pens. But when the pens are painted green, "80 per cent of the cattle trotted in placidly."

The majority of British pens are painted red. The 220 RSPCA inspectors in the country have been asked to lead a campaign for green.

Spot of Fun, Pot of Gold

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—Small boys being what they are, a lot of imagination gets mixed up with routine chores around the house.

John Wells, 12, and his younger brother, Ronnie, 7, set off readily enough a week ago when their mother asked them to tear down the leaning chimney of an abandoned house bordering the Wells property.

Mrs. Wells feared the old chimney would fall and injure the family cow.

The boys took a wheelbarrow with them to bring the good bricks home.

But before beginning the week for fear "somebody" would put a little fantasy sary to put a little fantasy into it. They recalled an old tale that a reclusive who used to live in the neighborhood had buried a pot of gold in his house.

The boys decided to try a little treasure hunt before

Colonialism NATO Rift

PARIS (UPI)—Allied diplomats reported yesterday that differences over colonial policy have been the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's most serious internal problem.

These reports, coupled with those that Western foreign ministers foresaw no summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for a long time circulated yesterday after the end of the annual NATO ministerial council meeting.

Official NATO spokesman Edward Key omitted all reference to the colonial dispute from his official press briefings. Similarly, all references to it were deleted from the final communiqué issued by the ministers.

Large member nations, including even France, were more concerned at the council meeting about discussion of a strategic missile force in Europe rather than the colonial issue, it was reported.

Anti-Reds Chase Foe From Capital

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Anti-Communist troops armed with American weapons yesterday battled the rear guard of a retreating Communist force in an attempt to overtake and smash the main body.

Is Israel Making A-Bomb?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has requested an official report from Israel as to whether that country is trying to add atomic weapons to its military arsenal, the state department disclosed last night.

A spokesman said Israel has still not replied to the request, made Dec. 9.

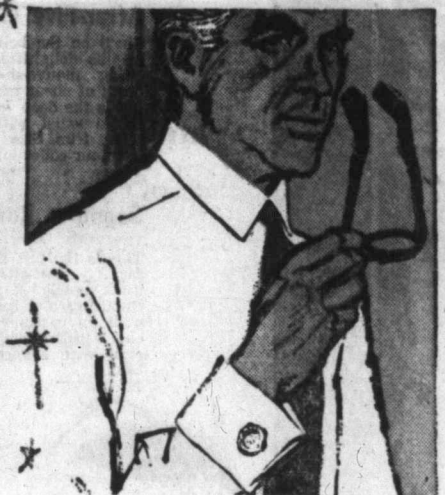

President Eisenhower yesterday received a top-level briefing on world affairs.

There were few details on the briefing, but it presumably dealt in part at least with what course the U.S. should take if the reports proved true. The state department said the United States could not continue peaceful atomic aid to Israel if it were used for weapons.

WAKE UP! SLEEP DREAMS...

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They toss and turn in bed, then are dull and listless during the day. When kidneys slow down wastes and excess acids stay in the system. Insurance

Bronze Bust Closer

Insurance on the smashed concrete statue of Queen Elizabeth might go a long way toward acquiring a bronze statue, city parks committee chairman Ald. M. H. Mooney hinted yesterday.

The concrete statue, he said, was made "at a very special price," and the insurance should cover its replacement at an ordinary price.

Parks committee, agreeing, called for estimates of the cost of replacing the statue-in-concrete and indicated it will also look into the cost of acquiring one in metal.

The committee also:

● Authorized negotiations to see if property-owners on the west side of Elk Lake are willing to co-operate in providing a path and bridge-trail along that side of the lake.

● Advised finance committee of its approval of the city leasing to British America Paint Co. Ltd., if legally possible, four lots on Belleville, three of them needed to the city in trust 70 years ago for esplanade development.

● Decided to ask the Victoria Model Yacht Club if it has funds of its own to build a new model yacht pool on Dallas, and if not, how it proposes the money should be raised for the new pool it has asked for.

● Authorized removal of eight trees from Beacon Hill Park. Parks administrator, W. H. Warren, said the trees are nearly dead and endangering others.

● Approved advertising of the city's intention to remove broken copings and stones from some plots in Ross Bay Cemetery, calling for objections to be filed with the Public Utilities Commission by Jan. 11.

● As a result of a petition from 15 neighbors and the findings of city inspectors, recommended preparation of a demolition order for old houses at 403 and 405 Heather.

Quick Action

Neighbor Spots Fire in Home

Quick action of a neighbor helped keep fire damage to a minimum at the home of elderly Mrs. Vilhelmine Jones, 4032 Quadra, yesterday afternoon.

Flames were spotted by Mrs. Julia Caldwell, 4030 Quadra, at work in her kitchen at the time.

"I could see them shooting all over the house," she said. "I called the fire department then ran over to the house." She said she opened the door just a little bit but closed it again immediately — "the smoke was awfully thick."

Mrs. Jones and her housekeeper Mrs. Lillian Matthews were having tea in the kitchen, unaware at first of the fire which started in the living room chesterfield, firemen said. Doors between the rooms were closed.

Missing 24 Hours

Rescued Fisherman Tired but Unhurt

Lone occupant of a powerless troller was weary and hungry but in good condition when rescued near Sooke yesterday.

Alex Jackson, 33, of Kemp Lake Road, Sooke, object of a search by RCMP and the RCAF air-sea rescue unit, had been missing nearly 24 hours.

A series of mishaps left his 20-foot vessel without power about 2 p.m. Sunday. Jackson paddled the troller half a mile on a flood tide to moor over night beside a fish pot piling at Iron Mine Bay near Sooke harbor.

After spending a sleepless night trying to keep his motoring line slack, the veteran fisherman was sighted yesterday afternoon by a department of fisheries vessel and rescued.

"I was coming in when a wave broke over the stern and filled the bilge," said Mr. Jackson. "A wheel on the automatic bilge pump splashed water up on the motor and shorted it out."

"I cleaned the plugs and points and then killed the battery grinding away on the starter."

"It was getting choppy. I got some of the water out with a hand pump. Then I started paddling."

"I paddled about half a mile and reached the piling at dusk. I couldn't sleep; the boat was rocking and kept swinging against the pile. The line had to stay slack or it would break."

"I was mighty glad to see the fisheries boat. They gave me ham sandwiches and coffee ... nothing but the best. They towed me into Sooke harbor."

"I'll be out again in the morning if I can get my battery charged up enough to start it," said Mr. Jackson.

Judicial Recount Confirms Margin

Labor's Toone Wins Council Seat

Believed to be the first man to represent labor directly on Victoria's city council, Alfred W. Toone yesterday was declared winner of an aldermanic seat after a judicial recount of ballots.

Mr. Toone, secretary-treasurer of the Victoria Labor Council, defeated by five votes William C. Hudson, who had been declared the winner on election night.

The judicial recount, under Judge J. B. Clearhue, produced the same results as the last and most careful of six counts conducted by returning officer M. F. Hunter. It gave Mr. Toone 1,860 votes, and Mr. Hudson 1,855.

Mr. Toone said yesterday he understood a labor representative had once before won election to council, but had not served as an alderman because his qualifications were found to be insufficient.

Mr. Hudson described himself after the judicial recount as "down but not out," and added, laughing, that he felt "like Dempsey, the victim of a long count."

He wished Mr. Toone the best, and thanked "all who gave me such grand support in my first try."

Annual Bird Count Set Boxing Day

The annual Christmas bird count will be taken on Boxing Day by 26 senior and eight junior members of Victoria Natural History Society. The local census is part of an annual project directed by the National Audubon Society throughout Canada and the U.S.

B.C. Teachers

Salary Scale 'Vital'

A provincial salary scale for all teachers is essential if arbitration hearings held in most B.C. school districts this year are to be avoided in 1961, a spokesman for local trustees said last night.

Kenneth Leeming, chairman of Greater Victoria school board's salary committee, said the issue was a vital one and merited serious consideration by the government as soon as possible.

PRESENT LEVEL
He was commenting on the ruling of an arbitration board which last week acceded to the trustees' request that local teachers' salaries should remain at the present level through 1961.

Mr. Leeming said it was "heartening" to see that the Union of B.C. Municipalities also had recently requested the cabinet to introduce a provincial salary scale for the profession.

Anxiety Eased

A cable from rebellion-torn Ethiopia yesterday relieved the anxiety of relatives of former Victorian Percy Richards.

Mr. Richards' daughter, Mrs. R. A. Paine of 4848 Townsend, received the cable saying, "Mother and dad are well."

Mr. Richards is managing editor of Voice of Ethiopia.

No Liquor After Six

Liquor stores throughout British Columbia will close their doors at 6 p.m. on Christmas Eve and won't open again until the following Wednesday.

The three-day "drought" includes Monday, Dec. 26, and Tuesday, Dec. 27.

Stores which regularly close at 6 p.m. will remain open to 9 p.m. next Friday.

Over the New Year the stores will close at 6 p.m. New Year's Eve and will open on Jan. 3.

Motorcyclist Breaks Leg In Crash

A soldier from Work Point Barracks suffered a broken leg when his motorcycle struck a car in Sooke yesterday.

Robert William Thompson, of Work Point, was taken to HMCS Naden Hospital by West Coast Ambulance. Driver of the car was Mandus Michelsen of Grant Road, Sooke.

The accident happened at the intersection of Murray Road and Sooke Road about 4.30 p.m.

Big Toy Auction Today

Admiring a few of the hundreds of toys donated to the Colonist 500 Fund toy auction by bingo patrons at the arena last night are nine-year-old Ruth Sullivan, 886 Dunsuir, and Tom Hamilton of the Colonist circulation department. The toy auction will be held in Maynard's auction rooms today, beginning at 3 p.m. and 7.30 p.m.—(Colonist photo.)

Tenders Early in '61 For 13 Classrooms

Tenders will be called by Greater Victoria school board early next year for construction of 13 new classrooms at three schools with $220,800 in surplus funds from the last building bylaw.

Trustees last night working drawings and specifications for the additions which should be completed and ready for occupancy by next fall.

Action followed receipt of official approval from the provincial government and four Greater Victoria municipalities for use of the money. It will be spent on a six-classroom addition for Esquimalt High School, three new classrooms for Frank Hobbs Elementary School and a four-classroom addition to Gordon Head Elementary School.

Dancing Wednesday
The next meeting and classes of the Scottish Country Dance Society is set for Wednesday evening, not tonight as previously announced.

MUSICAL CAMPAIGN: The Esquimalt-Saanich New Party candidate Glen Hamilton, complete with his swing violin, was guest artist at the Christmas party of the Luxton Farmers' Institute last week.

Quipped master of ceremonies Alan Litter: "We don't want any of this fiddling around down in Ottawa, Glen."

Incidentally, Mr. Hamilton phoned us to say he really should have pronounced Peterborough correctly at his nomination the other night. His parents came from the Peterborough area.

VEILED FEATURES: Latest issue of Modern Sunbathing Magazine, which features nudism and photographs of nudes, advertises a headline story on its cover. "See Our Girls in Bikinis!" it reads.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT: The 30 to 40 members of the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Society will think twice before they embark on Christmas carolling again.

Accompanied by five members of the HMCS Naden band the party trooped the St. Charles-Pemberton Road.

8,000 Play Bingo 1,500 Miss Out

Victoria's Memorial Arena was packed to the rafters last night for the 22nd Kinsmen bingo, with almost 200 patrons standing the whole evening and almost 1,500 others turned away through lack of seating.

It was a capacity crowd of about 8,000, the largest the Kinsmen have ever had and perhaps the largest crowd ever to fill the arena.

WON $7,000

With up to $10,000 cash to be won in the 14 games, winners and runners-up took more than $7,000 home, along with another $500 given to 10 lucky ticket-holders who bought their tickets by Dec. 10 and more than 100 Christmas turkeys given away during the night.

SIX DAUGHTERS

Mr. Adams, who took three of his six daughters to the bingo with him, won the first $1,000 game about 9 p.m. but he waited until he went home after it was all over before telling his wife, Beverley, who was home baby-sitting with their other three daughters.

He was a finalist in a game for a car at an earlier Kinsmen bingo, but lost out in the payoff.

HOPING FOR WIN

Miss Mar, who attended with her mother and a brother, was hoping for a win last night — she put off buying Christmas presents.

Friday night she will buy presents for her family—mother, father, five brothers and five sisters.

Her mother, Mrs. Francis Mar, almost won a turkey for having the largest family of anyone in the arena.

Mrs. Mary Reinstein, 1345 Mount Douglas Cross Road, turned down a chance to take home $500 for the first game of the evening.

She was one of 22 patrons who filled their bingo cards at the same time, but in the payoff she was eliminated with the first number called.

NAME LISTED

But her name was listed as winner by mistake. When she went to the cashier to collect her $10 consolation prize she was offered the $500 top prize.

Eight patrons who donated toys to the Colonist 500 Christmas Fund toy auction were also given Christmas turkeys. Their tickets were drawn from hundreds held by donors of toys. Colonist Editor-in-Chief Richard J. Bower announced winners.

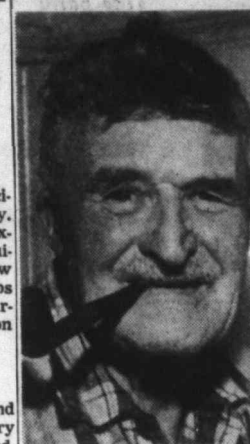

Hundreds of toys, ranging from ice skates to air guns and a bingo game, were donated as patrons filed into the arena at the start of the evening.

Bingo committee chairman for all 22 of the Kinsmen's Club's giant bingos, Jack Phillion was honored with a life membership during the evening.

Winners of $500 prizes were: Mrs. M. Grinston, 204 Scott Street; Mrs. H. Shaw, 1550 Simpson; and Linda Edge, 4121 Carey Road.

Winners of $100 prizes: Mrs. Doris Webb, 258 Hayward; Alan Wilbur, 1149 Herald Avenue; C. F. West, 1124 McGarry; J. W. Ross, 1129 Balfour; Robert Bailey, 1600 Dean Park; Sidney, and Joe Kula, 981 Canterbury.

No Fiddling Around in Ottawa Swinging Candidate Warned

Peter Bruton's Capital Notebook

Lansdowne Heights areas the other night singing carols outside homes.

Residents were apparently scared stiff that if they went outside the would find a collection can pushed under their noses. So they stayed indoors.

A couple of the more-daring householders opened their front doors about two inches but slammed them firmly shut as soon as there was a pause in the singing.

The only places where the singers were rewarded with a little appreciation—which was all they were after—was at Government House and at one private party.

A ROSE BY ANY OTHER

... The Provincial Civil Defence Circular has gone to some pains to apologize for an error in the issue before the latest.

The offending words in an article read: "... since the army is now responsible for civil defence."

This should have read: "... since the army now has certain specific responsibilities in connection with national survival."

Gad, sir! Got to confound 'em with officiousness, what?

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is 18 years of age. She had a child out of wedlock a few weeks ago by a chap who fathered another child in this community two years ago under similar circumstances.

Our daughter wants to give up the baby for adoption although the boy is planning to marry her next April. My husband and I think it is an outrage to give away one's flesh and blood. We are sure they will both regret it.

Our daughter says they don't wish to start out married life with an eight-month-old baby. She claims it would be embarrassing and inconvenient. I say that everybody in town knows already so what's the difference?

The infant is now in a foster home and so far as I know they haven't gone to see him. Please say something to set them straight. They need your advice — and so do we.—M AND D.

Dear M and D: I'm thinking of the baby—not these two irresponsible lightweights. The child would be better off with adoptive parents who want and love him than with a pair of kooks who happen to be his natural parents.

Dear Ann Landers: I feel ashamed asking for your help after all I've said about people who have to write away about personal problems. Call me Stinker, but please give me some advice.

I'm 62, male, divorced, and was very lonesome till I met this woman. She's a widow and a real winner. Our love is mutual. There's only one drawback—she has six kids, four at home. The youngest is 2, the oldest 13.

The woman has a little money and some property. I have alimony to pay but could take care of her and the kids nicely. She's willing, ready and waiting. My friends tell me I couldn't stand the kids. They say I'm too blamé old to play Daddy to these young ones. If I had your wise counsel, I'd be sure.—FENCE SITTING.

Dear Sittin': If you're in good health, if you love the woman, and if you like the kids, marry the widow. You've been around them enough to know whether or not they get on your nerves.

There's an old saying that kids can make young parents old and old parents young. I believe it.

To learn the boot-strap of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDER'S booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Canadians in France Can Compare Customs

Canadians spending the festive season in France this year will have fun comparing French Christmas customs with those they know back home.

1. Highlight of all French Christmas celebrations is the "revellion," a sumptuous feast held after midnight and lasting till dawn. In Paris it's a gay, carefree occasion, often held in a restaurant, where the menu includes oysters, truffled turkey, pate, assorted sausages and a selection of red and white Burgundy wines. In the provinces revellion is celebrated at home. Regional dishes include buckwheat with sour cream (Brittany); roasted chestnuts with milk or wine (Auvergne) or goose (Alsace).

2. Before revellion many Frenchmen go to midnight mass. The occasion is one of music, light and pageantry, whether at great medieval cathedrals like Chartres or Notre Dame de Paris, or at small country churches where it's easy to relive the first Nativity scene.

3. French children put out shoes (not stockings) on hearth for Pere Noel (Santa Claus) to fill. While parents attend mass and revellion, youngsters sleep fitfully, awaiting presents of candy, fruit and other small gifts.

4. Centrepiece Christmas decoration in most French homes is a crib, depicting the Nativity.

5. Right across France children or parents bring home "santons," little wood or wax figures representing Joseph, the Magi, shepherds, cattle and other Nativity characters. Santon capital of France is Aubagne, Provence. Marseilles has a santon fair too.

6. Gaily decorated Christmas trees are a feature of many French households, complete with tinsel, colored lights, Bethlehem stars. A giant tree faces Notre Dame Cathedral, Paris.

7. Frenchmen love to celebrate Christmas with parades—shepherds carrying their lambs to St. Vincent Church in the Baux; skiers torchlight processions at Valberg or in the Savoy Alps; lantern procession at Perouges. There are parades in Paris too.

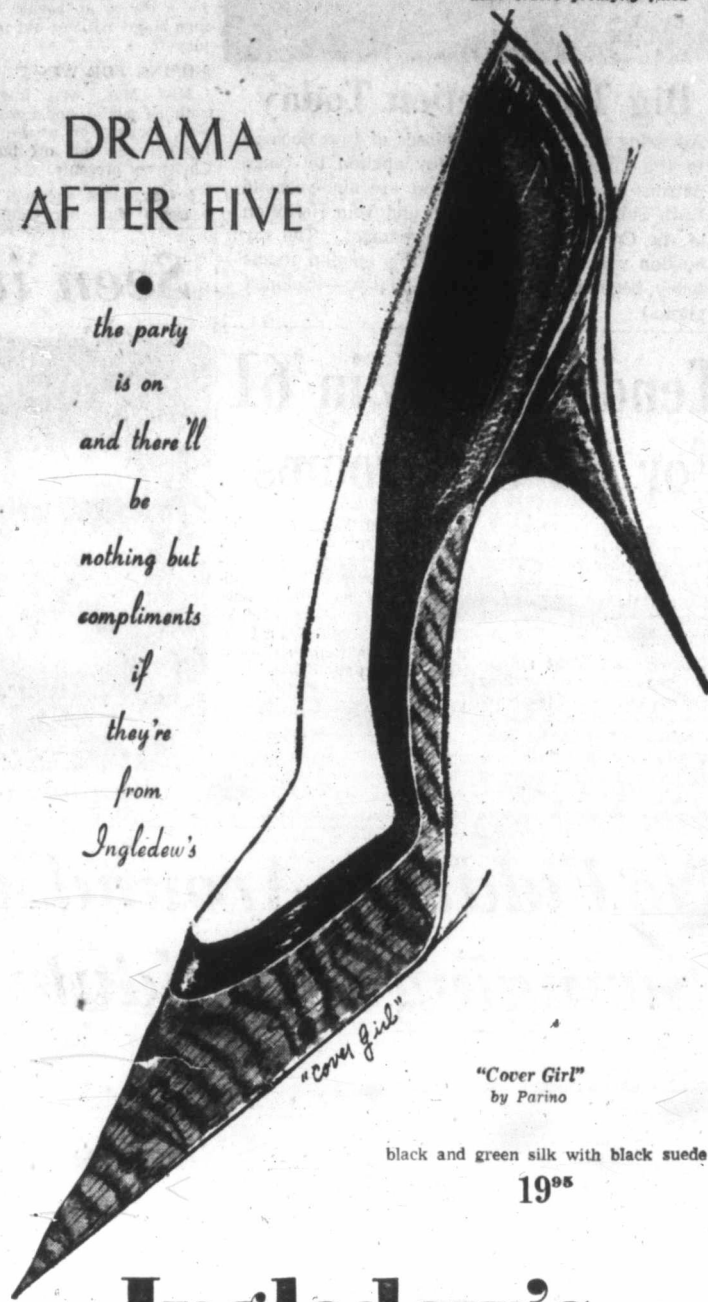

8. Christmas present giving is mostly confined to children. Adults exchange gifts at New Years.

9. Christmas shopping in Paris in the immediate pre-yule period is an adventure in itself. Store windows are sumptuously decorated—some with displays depicting La Fontaine fables; others with space ships.

Dolls Get Together

Just as big as she is! This 40-inch doll, held by little Alyson Keilty of Toronto is just her size, can even be dressed in her clothes. The trend to life-like toys is also carried out with dolls that walk, cry, talk, sleep and even break a leg so that the "little nurse" can place it in a splint.—(CP photo.)

Wassail Recipe: Ten Love Apples, A Clutch of Eggs

NEW YORK (UPI)—An 18th century recipe for wassail bowl called for "ten love apples, a clutch of eggs and a flagon of Spanish sherry."

But ale was the basis of the original recipe created some 1,500 years ago. Wassail was the first English toast. It means "be well." The proper Anglo-Saxon response, "drink hael," means "drink well."

A 20th century wassail bowl is made by dissolving ¼ to ½ cup of brown sugar (use smaller amount with dry sherry, larger with sweet or cream sherry) in ½ cup of water. Add 1 teaspoon of ginger and ½ teaspoon of nutmeg. For a spicier beverage, also add ½ teaspoon each of allspice and mace, 3 cloves and a small stick of cinnamon. Bring to boil, add 2 bottles of sherry and bring to boil again.

In a 2½-quart punch bowl, beat 6 egg yolks until lemon-colored. Fold in 6 stiffly beaten egg whites. Add hot spiced wine slowly, stirring constantly. Float 6 whole small baked apples on the foam, dust punch and apples with nutmeg and serve. Makes 18 cups.

Traditionally, toast instead of eggs was used in the wassail. Hot buttered toast can be served with the modern version.

Car Price Reports 'Inaccurate' So Far

OTTAWA (CP) — Direct increase in the basis on which British and other European vehicles are assessed duty and tax.

The change reduced a discount rate to 20 per cent from 30 after complaints by the car trade and unions that the old rate was letting cars slip in too cheaply.

Mr. Nowlan said Renault had decided against a retail price increase. Chrysler said the same about its French-made Simca, as did Ford of its British car line.

Volkswagen prices were up $50 to $80. British Motor Corporation was increasing its prices $20 and up depending on model.

Jet in Traffic Crash 11 Miles Off Course

Two Warnings Heard By Other Airline Pilot

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Air Lines jet airliner in history's worst aviation disaster Friday was 11 miles from where it should have been when it collided with a Trans World Airlines Constellation over New York, the administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency said Monday.

The collision, with the jet falling in Brooklyn and the Constellation on Staten Island, killed at least 135 persons.

Not Why It Strayed

However, he said, this should not have caused the plane to stray from its course and it should not have been over Staten Island where the collision occurred.

Meanwhile, Time magazine published recorded conversations between the traffic controller and the TWA pilot.

The magazine said an unidentified blip showed up on the Laguardia airport controller's radar as he nursed TWA's flight from Ohio through falling snow and overcast towards a landing. "Unidentified target approaching you at four miles, 3 o'clock (a 90-degree angle)," Time quoted the controller as saying.

Gen. Elwood Quesada, FAA head, said one of two electronic navigation aids aboard the DC-8 was out of commission at the time.

Pilot David Wollman acknowledged, Time said, and seconds later the tower again warned the pilot and again he acknowledged.

Time said the Laguardia tower checked Idlewild which reported there would be no aircraft in the TWA plane's path.

Two Blips Merged

Then the controller watched as the two blips merged and became one.

Quesada said the United jet from Chicago, was, at the time of the collision, supposed to be circling Preston, N.J., awaiting clearance to make its approach to Idlewild.

However, he said radar observers saw the jet proceed past Preston to the point of collision. He said the pilot had no authority to proceed beyond Preston.

Philip Goldstein, chief of the safety investigation division of the Civil Aeronautics Board, said the TWA plane was supposed to be where it was — over Staten Island.

Investigators concentrated on some 14 persons who claimed to have seen the collision from the ground.

A public hearing on the disaster was scheduled for Jan. 4. The jet killed an estimated seven persons on the ground. Two others are missing in a shambles of brownstone tenements, business shops and a church.

School Buses

Warning Repeated To Drivers

Warning that all cars must stop when approaching a stopped bus — from either direction — has been issued again by police officials of Greater Victoria.

RCMP of Colwood are particularly concerned, due to use of school buses in the Metchosis and Malahat districts.

Drivers are reminded that when they see the flashing lights of a school bus they must stop their cars, no matter whether following the bus or approaching from the opposite direction.

Farmers Unite

SASKATOON (CP) — A national farmers' union was created here during the weekend at a meeting of the inter-provincial farm union council.

Farm unions in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario proposed the national organization at annual meetings held during the last six weeks.

'Bits and Pieces' Aid Church Fund

Money in "bits and pieces" from all over Canada is coming in to swell the rebuilding fund for St. John's Anglican Church, fund chairman Capt. T. B. T. Hewett said yesterday.

"The response is truly amazing," he said.

"There have been few, if any, donations in large amounts, but I know that in yesterday's mail alone sums ranging from a dollar and up brought in at least $1,000."

NAVY MEN GIVE

Capt. Hewett said one donation of about $38 came from naval apprentices at HMCS Naden, who took up a collection at their annual carol service.

Organizations within St. John's are busy planning fund-raising affairs to speed the rebuilding.

In addition, it is hoped arrangements may be made for many members of the church, to make instalment donations by the month as they wish.

PAINTER HELPS

Miss Emily Sartain, noted painter of wildflowers and plants, has offered to hold an exhibition of her work to aid the fund.

Investigators from the provincial fire marshal's office still are seeking the cause of the blaze that burned out St. John's with an estimated loss of $500,000, and of a second fire at the same time at First United Church.

Every possible lead is being followed, Deputy Marshal Henry Jenks said, from firebug to coincidence, but it is still too early to make any report.

$18,000 in Gold Coins Vanishes

Mounties Mystified

TORONTO (UPI)—The Mounties called in the men from Interpol Monday to help them find a shipment of $18,000 worth of gold which disappeared on a flight from London to Toronto.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police said they suspected an international gang may be involved and the shipment was shadowed from the time it left Switzerland.

The gold, made up of British sovereigns and United States 20-dollar pieces, was bound for the Bank of Nova Scotia in Toronto and was to be used for foreign exchange displays.

The RCMP said it had requested Interpol assistance because it has been unable to find any lead in Canada.

"We can learn nothing definite about how or where the gold disappeared," said RCMP Supt. F. H. Woods-Johnson.

The RCMP said the gold might have been stolen in under the eyes of a customs officer. Before it landed in Montreal, the TCA plane made a half-hour stopover in Prestwick, Scotland.

After its stop in Toronto the aircraft continued to Vancouver with a stopover in Winnipeg. RCMP failed to find a trace of the shipment in those two cities.

The gold coins, which were shipped in two containers, were the second gold shipment to disappear from aircraft landing at Toronto.

Eight years ago a case containing $215,000 worth of gold disappeared from the airport tarmac as it was about to be loaded aboard a TCA North Star. A worker had left it standing unguarded while he loaded mail aboard the plane.

Secret Plan Still Awaited

Victoria's special auditorium committee is still waiting for a possible "new development."

Chairman Ald. Austin Curtis has kept secret the nature of the possible development, but said two months ago the committee wasn't meeting because "one or two suggestions" to come might influence the course of its deliberations.

"I hope to have some information soon that we can work on," he said yesterday, "but I haven't anything yet."

B.C. Curb on Trading Stamps Not Weakened, Bonner Thinks

Attorney General Bonner of the legislature, anyone challenging the legality of the stamps was concerned with the criminal code, while the B.C. regulation is concerned only with stopping a party other than the merchant or consumer from entering the trading stamp field.

Special 'Watcher' Saw Gold Loaded

GET BACK ON SCHEDULE

Millions of people have found a way to correct constipation caused by lack of bulk in the foods they eat. It's the Kellogg's All-Bran way—the way that has been proved to be safe, reliable and pleasant.

Kellogg's All-Bran helps promote regularity because it is a whole bran cereal—and bran is nature's best bulk-forming food. Just a small serving—half a cup—with milk each day gives your system all the good food bulk it needs to work the way nature intended.

Try eating wholesome, appetizing Kellogg's All-Bran with milk every day for 10 days. See if it doesn't work for you, too.

LONDON (UPI)—A 35-pound box containing $18,000 in gold coins which disappeared between London and Toronto was loaded aboard an airplane here under scrutiny of a special customs "watcher" Dec. 9, airport sources said Monday.

The sources said the metal-bound package, about the size of a shoe box, was put aboard a Trans-Canada Airlines jet flight and placed at the bottom of all the other freight in the airliner's hold.

The customs "watcher" stood close to the ramp as it went aboard, they said, after its arrival on another plane from Zurich, Switzerland.

The sources said the plane carrying the gold stopped off at Prestwick, Scotland, for 35 minutes before heading across the Atlantic for Canada.

Airline officials said it would have been impossible for anyone to have moved all the other heavy cargo in that time to remove the gold shipment.

Council last night appointed Taylor Spittal Ltd. insurance brokers for the municipality of Esquimalt. The firm was chosen on the recommendation of the Victoria Insurance Agents' Association.

Show Business

By Dick Williams

Night club, TV and record. American audiences. "Fascination" has long been popular in France and is frequently used for production numbers in the most chic boites in Paris.

The night before Miss Morgan was to open at the Champs Elysees club in Paris, she caught the closing performance of the current show. Accompanied by her agent, she entered the club and had no sooner been greeted by the maitre d' than the orchestra struck up "Fascination."

Beaming, Jane turned toward the crowded club and waited for the spotlight beam to fall on her. Instead, the light lit up a line of scantily clad showgirls prancing on stage to the popular strains.

The embarrassed Miss Morgan laughed it off and hurried to their table.

Complicated Trial Begins

Coin-Doctoring Admitted

VANCOUVER (CP) — A de Vancouver, are charged with a conspiracy to defraud the public and possessing silver clip changing the dates of coins and thereby increasing the silver coins' value from 50 cents to as much as $1.00.

John Romanuk, 35, and Paul Pankowe, 31, also of However, Davies said, Romanuk said he was doing it for his own private coin collection and denied selling them for profit.

Davies said Romanuk also stated he had sold a 1921 50-cent piece to a Calgary man for $1.025, but said the coin was genuine, and the date had not been changed.

Thousands of coins, bottles of acid and coin-cutting tools were included in the evidence as the trial opened.

The trial is expected to be one of the most complicated ever held here and witnesses will be called from as far away as Toronto and Chicago.

RCMP Const. Richard Latta of North Surrey testified Romanuk offered him a rare 1936 Canadian cent coin at the Pacific National Exhibition.

TWO-TONE COLOR
The constable said he did not buy it because he was suspicious of its two-tone color. Such a coin, if authentic, has a collector's value of at least $1,000.

Jack Marles, Calgary coin dealer, said both he and his wife examined the 1921 Canadian 50-cent piece purchased by mail from Romanuk under a microscope and were satisfied it was genuine.

He said he listed it for sale at $1,700, but later handed it over to police.

Public Wins Army Game

AUCKLAND (CP) — Soldiers undergoing a course were sent on an initiative test requiring them to trek long distances. The army command appealed to the public not to give the men lifts.

Motorists responded by offering rides to anyone resembling a soldier. They fed them, hid them and pointed out check points set up by the army.

"I suspect their helpers were old soldiers," remarked the director of the course, more in sorrow than in anger.

Heiress' Whim Shocks Mother

NEW YORK (UPI) — St. Louis heiress Ellen Steinberg, who offered $500,000 to keep schools going in New Orleans, said Monday it was a spur-of-the-moment idea.

"I was talking with a group of friends and this idea just emerged," said Miss Steinberg, a 41-year-old divorcee and former social worker. "Lots of people talk about trying to correct the world's ills, but we thought it was time someone did something."

MOTHER SHOCKED

She added her mother, widow of multi-millionaire stockbroker and philanthropist Mark Steinberg, "was really shocked... but she congratulated me."

"I have said goodbye to the money," she said, underscoring her promise that if the board would be unable to accept the money as a loan she would make it an outright gift.

The Louisiana legislature, in an effort to block court-ordered desegregation in New Orleans schools, stripped the board of both operating funds and its power to borrow money.

School board president Louis Reicke said the board was

Patriot's Cry:

'Britain First, Always'

LONDON (Reuters) — Gen. Lord Jeffreys, 82, descendant of notorious Judge Jeffreys of the "bloody assize" of 1685, died Monday night.

Jeffreys' ancestor-judge claimed he hanged more traitors than all his predecessors since the Norman conquest of 1066.

Jeffreys' military career went back to Britain's Nile expedition in 1898 when he took part in the battle of Khartoum.

He frequently revealed his deep patriotism in the expression "Britain first and always."

On a visit to the French port of Boulogne he astounded a customs officer by saying, "Sir, will you kindly speak to me in English—or do not speak at all."

'Messiah' Deserves Larger Audience

By HERT BINNY

A surprisingly small audience failed to detract from an excellent performance of Handel's "Messiah" by the Victoria Choral Society last night.

This finest of all oratorios will be given again this evening at 8 in Metropolitan United Church. Perhaps then it will get the audience it richly deserves.

Soloists were soprano Peggy Walton Packard, contralto Eleanor Duff, tenor Michael Rogers and bass John Dunbar.

Mr. Dunbar was taking the place of Stanley Martin who was prevented from appearing at the last moment by a cold.

The chorus, under the direction of Stanley Hoban, sang not only with technical assurance but also with great understanding. Richard Proudman was the organist.

Also yesterday evening the Musical Art Society Studio Group gave a program of Christmas music at the Art Gallery.

The society's Madrigal Singers, Sheila McMorran, Jean Halkett, Marion Matcham, Florence Miller, Daphne Osborn, Violet Russ, Rita Wallis, Marjorie Sturgeon and director Margery Vaughan, sang

Optimistic Canadians 'Economic Liars'

VANCOUVER — A veteran B.C. mining engineer has labelled Canada "a nation of economic liars" and says Canadians have a vastly exaggerated view of the country's limited and rapidly-depleted natural resources.

Attacking Canadians for "perverted optimism," C. M. Campbell said: "We have built our house upon sand and if this is not corrected it will fall."

His special brief continues a series of attacks on the tendency to overrate Canada's resource wealth. His first was in 1923, when a mining convention called his paper a "doctrine of gloom" and excluded it from convention records.

MOSCOW — A hale and hearty Nikita Khrushchev showed up in public for the first time in two weeks to toast a Cuban plea for help in case of war. He recently suffered from flu.

OTTAWA — O. J. Godin (L. Nickel Belt) criticized the CBC for scheduling songs by Paul Robeson Christmas Day. Revenue Minister Nowlan, asked to act, said his job was merely to report to Parliament for CBC.

PALM BEACH, Fla. — Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, 49, Montreal-born woman active in California politics, was picked by President-elect Kennedy as treasurer of the U.S.

BRISTOL — Chocolate heiress Elizabeth Ann Fry, 35, married red-bearded Irishman Joseph Patrick Lee, 31, denying newspaper claims that he was her gardener.

LONDON — The Earl of Buchan, 15th holder of a title created in 1469, died at 82.

VANCOUVER — Lloyd Felker, who figured in the recent trial of a Vancouver police constable, received a suspended sentence on a charge of being drunk in a public place. Const. Fred Purser was acquitted last week on a charge of attempting to murder Felker.

PONTIANAK, Borneo — Lt. Gen. Gatot Subroto, deputy chief of staff of the Indonesian army, said the trouble with Indonesian government officials is they talk too much when "the people are tired of speeches."

WASHINGTON — Herbert Hoover Huffman, a "savage and sadistic" fugitive accused of torturing to death his common-law wife, was placed on the FBI's 10 most wanted list.

LONDON — Patrick Kinsella, who had a kidney grafted from his father in an operation last October that made British medical history, died at 17. The father made a normal recovery.

PARIS — Jean Desy, 67, former Canadian ambassador to Paris, died of a ruptured artery.

ROME — Msgr. Alfonso Carini, 98, "the oldest bishop in the world," celebrated the 75th anniversary of his ordination as a priest.

VANCOUVER — Lawyer Frank Lewis has resigned as president of the B.C. Liberal Association due to the pressure of business.

LOS ANGELES — Judge David Coleman set Jan. 3 for the start of the third murder trial of Dr. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff.

TOKYO — Police say Masashi Kobayashi, 45, borrowed $250 from his best friend, then poisoned the friend and his wife and daughter, trying to make it look like murder-suicide. They recovered.

MANCHESTER — Gene Smith, who jumped bail on a 1958 traffic charge, appeared in court to explain: "I got drunk and ended up in France. Before I knew it I was in the Foreign Legion."

LONDON — Chinese concert pianist Fou Ts'ong married Zamira Menuhin, 20, daughter of violinist Yehudi Menuhin.

U.S. Rocket Chimp Next Step

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UPI) — The U.S. fired an unmanned space capsule Monday 135 miles high and 235 miles out over the Atlantic under the watchful eye of astronauts who expect to ride one like it into orbit around the earth next year.

After what was described as an "unqualified success" in the Mercury man-in-space project, the project director said the next test shot might carry a chimpanzee. That shot is expected in January.

In April, according to present plans, one of the seven U.S. astronauts will ride a missile-borne capsule in a similar shot over the Atlantic, and later in 1961 a try will be made to put an astronaut into orbit.

South Africa Accused

Probe Pondoland Negroes Urge UN

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) — Negro leaders here have cabled Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations urging the UN to dispatch an investigation commission to Pondoland "to observe the alarming military operations against an unarmed people by the South African government."

Pondoland is the scene of disturbances by tribesmen against the administration of the first native reservation set up under the South African government's policy of apartheid.

An emergency was declared in five districts of eastern Pondoland two weeks ago. Troops were moved in to keep order.

The African leaders' cable was drafted after a weekend meeting of African political leaders — the first held since last March when a state of emergency was declared.

About 15 uniformed and plainclothes police burst into the community centre in Orlando Township near Johannesburg, where the Africans were meeting Saturday, and arrested 12 of the 36 delegates.

The police later released 10 of the 12, and ordered the other two, who were from Capetown, to leave the township.

One of the man resolutions passed at the conference said the denial of rights to Africans was a basic cause of racial tension and conflict in the country.

Alberta Turkey 27 Cents Any Drop Here 'Disaster'

While residents of Edmonton are paying as little as 27 cents a pound for their turkeys due to a city-wide price war, Victorians are laying out from 57 to 63 cents a pound.

And a drop in turkey prices here this year could prove disastrous for Island growers, a federal government agricultural official said last night.

JUST ENOUGH
Federal poultry inspector Maurice Randall said local prices are firm at present as there are just enough birds available to meet the big demand.

He said last year's prices, depressed by over-production all across Canada to 45 to 49 cents, forced a number of Island growers out of business.

LOST $1 A BIRD
Turkey farmer Charles Newman said a large number of growers had been put out of business by last year's prices and "the rest lost about a dollar on every eviscerated bird sold."

"Most of us are working now just to get out of last year's debt," he said.

Tenant Cuban 'Winner'

The poor tenant, not the rich landlord, would be given a break if Lionel Edwards, B.C. treasurer of the Communist Party of Canada, had his way.

Mr. Edwards, speaking to a group of 50 in Victoria last night, said he learned on a recent visit to Cuba that "extra property" is taken from the rich and given to the poor.

Rents, cut in half, are paid to the government and the tenant is supposed to be given the home after five or six years.

"You know, I like this plan so well, if I ever run in a municipal election, I'm going to advocate it here in Canada," he said.

Legion Permitted
To Add 'Royal'

OTTAWA (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth has agreed to permit the use of the word "Royal" in the name of the Canadian Legion, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker announced yesterday.

He said the veterans' organization would henceforth be known as the Royal Canadian Legion.

CANADA DISARMAMENT PLAN
TAKES HAMMERING AT UNCarrier Toll
May Top 100

NEW YORK (AP)—A sinister, smoky fire roared more than 12 hours through the world's newest and largest aircraft carrier—the USS Constellation—at the Brooklyn Navy Yard Monday, killing at least 46 persons. A police official said the death toll could exceed 100. Damage was estimated at $75,000,000.

'Santa' Fleming
Reports Today

OTTAWA (UPI)—Finance Minister Donald Fleming is expected to play Santa Claus to the nation's taxpayers tonight in an unusual baby budget designed to give the economy a sharp jolt forward.

While details of his presentation remain secret until Fleming begins to speak at 8 p.m. (EST), pre-budget speculation has centred almost entirely around a decrease in taxation.

The big question in most minds seems to be how far the federal treasury can go.

It appears certain that the $12,000,000 surplus Fleming forecast in his regular budget last March will disappear in a welter of red ink. Some say the new accounting may show a deficit as high as $100,000,000.

The finance minister's original figuring has suffered from both ends.

His revenue forecasts were predicated on a 6 per cent increase in the gross national product. Instead, the GNP—total of all goods and services produced—has lagged well behind that rate.

Jolly Remark
Irks Green

LONDON (CP)—Says the Earl of Home, Britain's foreign secretary: "I am glad to say on that I agree with Mr. Green."

Says External Affairs Minister Green of Canada: "Then I must be wrong."

The exchange is quoted by The Evening Standard—with out giving the particular context—in a story relating how Lord Home "upset" Green with what was intended as a "jolly remark" about Canada's former colonial status.

According to reports of the meeting, Green dropped the diplomatic niceties and bluntly told the NATO session that NATO must improve its "image" in the eyes of the uncommitted countries.

He told his fellow foreign ministers that when NATO members voted in the UN in support of Belgian and Portuguese colonialism, they could damage the alliance's "standing in the eyes of the neutralist Afro-Asian countries."

Kennedy
Win Official

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Kennedy was officially elected President of the United States Monday, ending weeks of bickering over charges of fraud and irregularity in the close popular vote. It became official when the 537 members of the electoral college met in the 50 state capitals and cast a majority of their ballots for him.

B.C. Pay Never Higher

B.C.'s total labor earnings for the first eight months of 1960 were the highest in history despite rising unemployment, the provincial bureau of economics and statistics said Monday.

The bureau said the total was $81,800,000 higher than in the same period of 1959. Average weekly wage in August was $82.47 compared with $79.68 in 1959.

The bureau said 57,000 persons were unemployed during November while 526,000 had jobs, 2,000 more than last year.

In Vancouver the number of persons seeking work in November was 20 per cent higher than November, 1959.

Winter Jobs
Doubled
Starr Says

OTTAWA (UPI) — Labor Minister Michael Starr said last night the federal government's winter works program will provide twice as many jobs this winter as last.

He said 100,000 men will be given on-site employment compared to 50,000 in 1959-60 and 35,000 in 1958-59, the winter the cost-sharing program was instituted. He said each on-site job was matched by one in supply industries.

Starr told the House of Commons that up to Dec. 16 4,589 projects valued at $203,000,000 had been approved.

$1,000 for Christmas

Welcome Christmas present of $1,000 was won by Gordon Adams, 17 Game Road, last night at the 22nd Kinsmen bingo game in Memorial Arena. He's surrounded by daughters Joanne, left; Darlene, foreground, and Linda. Mrs. Adams didn't hear of her husband's win until he returned after the game — she was baby-sitting with three other daughters.—(Colonist photos.)

Excited last night when she won a $1,000 prize at the Kinsmen's bingo in Memorial Arena, Lily Mar held her cheque upside down when showing it to the crowd.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Canada's disarmament plans took a severe hammering Monday and the hardest blow came when some co-sponsoring countries withheld support in a United Nations vote.

Debate centred on a resolution on a resolution submitted Monday by Wallace B. Nesbitt, vice-chairman of the Canadian delegation, asking in part that the 15th General Assembly's Political Committee vote, on Canada's disarmament plan, presented earlier in the session.

29 TO 16

The committee adopted instead 29 to 16 with 26 abstentions, an Indian resolution killing the request that it vote on the Canadian draft.

While the vote was procedural, the Canadian delegation's strategy for winning support of its plan before the assembly adjourns today was effectively squelched. The assembly resumes sessions March 7, after which the resolution could have another chance.

IMMEDIATE VOTE
The committee passed unanimously proposals by Canada—as amended by India—urging an immediate vote on three other resolutions having to do with cessation of nuclear tests and a ban on dissemination of nuclear weapons.

These were passed. The committee also recommended that nine other disarmament resolutions be put aside for the present, along with that of Canada.

Indian Defence Minister V. K. Krishna Menon started the assault on the Canadian formula early Monday by stating it was "inappropriate" and would mean an "impediment" to a renewal of East-West negotiations.

EDMONTON (CP)—Temperatures were below zero from the Rocky Mountains to Lake Winnipeg Monday night as the western prairies were hit with the coldest weather of the season. Colder temperatures were forecast for today and no relief was in sight.

Your Last Chance Today
To Donate to 500 Fund

Today is the last chance to make a donation that will help the needy families of The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund. The fund closes today at 5 p.m. Donations may be brought in to the main office at 2631 Douglas Street or the downtown office at 1215 Broad Street. Money mailed to the fund may not arrive in time for this year's distribution. Late donations will launch the fund next year.

Today's total of $7,672 guarantees cheques of $15 for each of the fund's 500 needy families.

Additional money over the $7,500 mark will go toward helping as many extra families as the total permits. So far 11 additional families will receive cheques for $15.

A jump of about 300 per cent in Greater Victoria's welfare rolls brought about the decision to enlarge the fund. Every $15 increase in the total means another family will be helped at this time of year when it is most needed.

Cheer Stocking Far From Full

DUNCAN — The Cowichan Christmas Cheer Fund stocking is still far from full and it appears some families may not receive help.

Total collected up to 6 p.m. last night was $1,834—or $1,200 short of the goal. Money donated so far is even less than last year.

"Donations of toys this year have been colossal," said treasurer George Sinden. "We don't have to buy any this year."

Even donations of canned foods are above last year's. But the committee is worried about cash that is needed to buy chickens and turkeys for 250 families.

"There isn't much time left. We pretty well have to have the money shortly or we won't be able to buy the turkeys," said Mr. Sinden.

in the old unemployment insurance commission office on Kenneth.

Donations have been received from Hillcrest employees' association, $300; North Cowichan municipal employees' union, $50; Duncan AOTS, $25, and an anonymous $100 in cash.

Junior High Tenders Soon

DUNCAN—Tenders will be called soon for the construction of the district's second eight-room junior high school.

Tenders are to be in Jan. 19. The school is expected to be completed in time for opening next September.

Construction was approved by the voters last year. The new school will be beside Alexander Elementary School in the townsite area.

Tenders have been let to D'Arcy Construction Ltd. to build a $2,000 covered play area onto Tansor Elementary School, and to M & G Construction Co. Ltd. for a one-room addition to Koksilah Elementary, costing $8,812.

They were the lowest of seven tenders. Two tenders by one company were returned unopened because they arrived an hour after the deadline.

The school board has decided to build a 200-foot water line into Mount Prevost Junior High School from Somenos Road, or have the contractor do it on a cost basis. The city is to install the water line to the property for North Cowichan residents and the school board.

the tree, which bounced and struck him.

He told his companion he didn't feel well and was going to sit down. A few minutes later he was dead.

An inquest has been set for Wednesday.

DUNCAN—A former security policeman in Victoria is due to be sentenced this morning on a charge of passing a worthless $90 cheque.

A. C. Wilson, 46, pleaded guilty and said it was his first offence when he appeared in police court yesterday.

Police said Wilson told the proprietor of a store that he was employed by the department of public works, and that the money was needed so his wife could catch a boat for Vancouver. But, said RCMP Cpl. Gordon Irvine, Wilson took the money and went to the Interior.

Magistrate A. C. Sutton remanded the case until today for a pre-sentence report.

Bronze Bust Closer

Insurance on the smashed concrete statue of Queen Elizabeth might go a long way toward acquiring a bronze statue, city parks committee chairman Ald. M. H. Mooney hinted yesterday.

The concrete statue, he said, was made "at a very special price," and the insurance should cover its replacement at an ordinary price.

Parks committee, agreeing, called for estimates of the cost of replacing the statue in concrete and indicated it will also look into the cost of acquiring one in metal.

The committee also:

• Authorized negotiations to see if property-owners on the west side of Elk Lake are willing to co-operate in providing a path and bridge-trail along that side of the lake.

• Advised finance committee of its approval of the city leasing to British America Paint Co. Ltd., if legally possible, four lots on Belleville, three of them needed to the city in trust 70 years ago for esplanade development.

• Decided to ask the Victoria Model Yacht Club if it has funds of its own to build a new model yacht pool on Dallas, and if not, how it proposes the money should be raised for the new pool it has asked for.

• Authorized removal of eight trees from Beacon Hill Park. Parks administrator, W. H. Warren, said the trees are nearly dead and endangering others.

• Approved advertising of the city's intention to remove broken copings and stones from some plots in Ross Bay Cemetery, calling for objections to be filed with the Public Utilities Commission by Jan. 11.

• As a result of a petition from 18 neighbors and the findings of city inspectors, recommended preparation of a demolition order for old houses at 403 and 405 Heather.

Quick Action

Neighbor Spots Fire in Home

Quick action of a neighbor helped keep fire damage to a minimum at the home of elderly Mrs. Vilhelmine Jones, 4032 Quadra, yesterday afternoon.

Flames were spotted by Mrs. Julia Coldwell, 4030 Quadra, at work in her kitchen at the time.

"I could see them shooting all over the house," she said. "I called the fire department then ran over to the house." She said she opened the door just a little bit but closed it again immediately — "the smoke was awfully thick."

Mrs. Jones and her housekeeper Mrs. Lillian Matthews were having tea in the kitchen, unaware at first of the fire which started in the living room chesterfield, firemen said. Doors between the rooms were closed.

Mrs. Coldwell said the two women were trying to carry a large trunk out of the back door when she arrived.

Saanich assistant fire chief Thomas Moss said the heat build-up in the room nearly blew out the front window. There was a long crack in the glass.

"He said the fire was apparently started by a cigarette on the chesterfield. Fire was confined to one corner of the room. Damage to the living room was light, he said.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Matthews will spend the night at Oak Lodge private hospital which adjoins the property.

Missing 24 Hours

Rescued Fisherman Tired but Unhurt

Lone occupant of a powerless troller was weary and hungry but in good condition when rescued near Sooke yesterday.

Alex Jackson, 33, of Kemp Lake Road, Sooke, object of a search by RCMP and the RCAF air-sea rescue unit, had been missing nearly 24 hours.

After spending a sleepless night trying to keep his mooring line slack, the veteran fisherman was sighted yesterday afternoon by a department of fisheries vessel and rescued.

"I was coming in when a wave broke over the stern and filled the bilge," said Mr. Jackson. "A wheel on the automatic bilge pump splashed water up on the motor and shorted it out.

"I cleaned the plugs and points and then killed the battery grinding away on the starter.

"It was getting choppy. I got some of the water out with a hand pump. Then I started paddling.

"I paddled about half a mile and reached the piling at dusk. I couldn't sleep; the boat was rocking and kept swinging against the pile. The line had to stay slack or it would break.

"I was mighty glad to see the fisheries boat. They gave me ham sandwiches and coffee — nothing but the best. They towed me into Sooke harbor.

"I'll be out again in the morning if I can get my battery charged up enough to start it," said Mr. Jackson.

Judicial Recount Confirms Margin

Labor's Toone Wins Council Seat

Believed to be the first man to represent labor directly on Victoria's city council, Alfred W. Toone yesterday was declared winner of an aldermanic seat after a judicial recount of ballots.

Mr. Toone, secretary-treasurer of the Victoria Labor Council, defeated by five votes William C. Hudson, who had been declared the winner on election night.

The judicial recount, under Judge J. B. Clearhue, produced the same results as the last and most careful of six counts conducted by returning officer M. F. Hunter. It gave Mr. Toone 1,860 votes, and Mr. Hudson 1,855.

Mr. Toone said yesterday he understood a labor representative had once before won election to council, but had not served as an alderman because his qualifications were found to be insufficient.

Mr. Hudson described himself after the judicial recount as "down but not out," and added, laughing, that he felt "like Dempsey, the victim of a long count."

He wished Mr. Toone the best, and thanked "all who gave me such grand support in my first try."

Jail Sequel To Car Tiff

ALBERNI — An argument with his wife put Frank Earl Studd in jail over the weekend and brought him into court Monday morning charged with careless driving.

Magistrate W. E. Macleod was told the Studd car had crashed into a tree by River Road. Damage was estimated at $400. Apparently Studd had refused to turn around and take his wife back to a River Road home. He was fined $25 on the careless driving charge and $10 for failing to produce a driving licence.

Carrier Toll May Top 100

NEW YORK (AP)—A sinister, smoky fire roared more than 12 hours through the world's newest and largest aircraft carrier—the USS Constellation—at the Brooklyn Navy Yard Monday, killing at least 46 persons. A police official said the death toll could exceed 100. Damage was estimated at $75,000,000.

Another seven persons were officially listed as missing. The blaze finally was declared under control late Monday night, but the huge vessel, nearing completion, continued to smolder.

The fire started on the main deck of the carrier in a tank of jet aviation fuel. There were no planes aboard, but the liquid was being used to flush the ship's piping system.

In the first moments, the fire seemed trivial and under control. Then suddenly it exploded out of hand and ravaged the sleek, missile-carrying carrier from stern to stern.

MOSTLY CIVILIANS
Forty-six persons were known dead, most of them civilian workers aboard the $250,000,000 carrier. Hundreds were injured.

Of the 4,200 persons aboard when the fire broke out, an uncounted number were trapped below red-hot deck plating, at the mercy of flames and deadly fumes, their fate uncertain.

Rescuers could hear muffled poundings from trapped workmen.

ONE MORE BREATH
They described victims they brought out with faces distorted in agony "as if they died trying desperately for one more breath of air."

"We haven't any idea how many people are down there," said Admiral Schuyler Pyne, commander of the navy yard. "They keep going down there and bringing people out. We just don't know how many more of them there are."

Some of the victims were drowned. Others were discovered below decks, their hands clutching their throats in grim testimony of suffocation. Hundreds of survivors owed their lives to a massive rescue

'Santa' Fleming Reports Today

OTTAWA (UPI)—Finance Minister Donald Fleming is expected to play Santa Claus to the nation's taxpayers tonight in an unusual baby budget designed to give the economy a sharp jolt forward.

While details of his presentation remain secret until Fleming begins to speak at 5 p.m. PST, pre-budget speculation has centred almost entirely around a decrease in taxation.

The big question in most minds seems to be how far the federal treasury can go.

It appears certain that the $12,000,000 surplus Fleming forecast in his regular budget last March will disappear in a welter of red ink. Some say the new accounting may show a deficit as high as $100,000,000.

He told the Commons that no consideration has been given to boosting the annual indemnity of $8,000 for members of Parliament, plus $2,000 for expenses.

Jolly Remark Irks Green

LONDON (CP)—Says the Earl of Home, Britain's foreign secretary: "I am glad to say on that I agree with Mr. Green."

Says External Affairs Minister Green of Canada: "Then I must be wrong."

The exchange is quoted by The Evening Standard—with out giving the particular context—in a story relating how Lord Home "upset" Green with what was intended as a "jolly remark" about Canada's former colonial status.

According to reports of the meeting, Green dropped the diplomatic niceties and bluntly told the NATO session that NATO must improve its "image" in the eyes of the uncommitted countries.

He told his fellow foreign ministers that when NATO members voted in the UN in support of Belgian and Portuguese colonialism, they could damage the alliance's standing in the eyes of the neutralist Afro-Asian countries.

Kennedy Win Official

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John Kennedy was officially elected President of the United States Monday, ending weeks of bickering over charges of fraud and irregularity in the close popular vote. It became official when the 537 members of the electoral college met in the 50 state capitals and cast a majority of their ballots for him. Vote was 306-220, with the other 15 votes for Sen. Harry Byrd.

B.C. Pay Never Higher

B.C.'s total labor earnings for the first eight months of 1960 were the highest in history despite rising unemployment, the provincial bureau of economics and statistics said Monday.

The bureau said the total was $81,800,000 higher than in the same period of 1959. Average weekly wage in August was $82.47 compared with $79.68 in 1959.

The bureau said 57,000 persons were unemployed during November while 526,000 had jobs, 2,000 more than last year.

Winter Jobs Doubled Starr Says

OTTAWA (UPI)—Labor Minister Michael Starr said last night the federal government's winter works program will provide twice as many jobs this winter as last.

He said 100,000 men will be given on-site employment compared to 50,000 in 1959-60 and 35,000 in 1958-59, the winter cost-sharing program was instituted. He said each on-site job was matched by one in supply industries.

Starr told the House of Commons that up to Dec. 16 4,589 projects valued at $203,000,000 had been approved.

$1,000 for Christmas

Welcome Christmas present of $1,000 was won by Gordon Adams, 17 Game Road, last night at the 22nd Kinsmen bingo game in Memorial Arena. He's surrounded by daughters Joanne, left; Darlene, foreground, and Linda. Mrs. Adams didn't hear of her husband's win until he returned after the game — she was baby-sitting with three other daughters.—(Colonist photos.)

Excited last night when she won a $1,000 prize at the Kinsmen's bingo in Memorial Arena, Lily Mar held her cheque upside down when showing it to the crowd. (See story, Page 17.)

Arms Plan Loses

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Canada's disarmament plans took a severe hammering Monday and the hardest blow came when some co-sponsoring countries withheld support in a United Nations vote.

Debate centred on a resolution on a resolution submitted Monday by Wallace B. Nesbitt, vice-chairman of the Canadian delegation, asking in part that the 15th General Assembly's political committee vote on Canada's disarmament plan, presented earlier in the session.

The committee adopted instead, 29 to 16 with 26 abstentions, an Indian resolution killing the request that it vote on the Canadian draft.

While the vote was procedural, the Canadian delegation's strategy for winning support of its plan before the assembly adjourns today was effectively squelched. The assembly resumes sessions March 7, after which the resolution could have another chance.

IMMEDIATE VOTE

The committee passed unanimously proposals by Canada—as amended by India—urging an immediate vote on three other resolutions having to do with cessation of nuclear tests and a ban on dissemination of nuclear weapons.

These were passed. The committee also recommended that nine other disarmament resolutions be put aside for the present, along with that of Canada.

Prairies To Keep Shivering

EDMONTON (CP)—Temperatures were below zero from the Rocky Mountains to Lake Winnipeg Monday night as the western prairies were hit with the coldest weather of the season. Colder temperatures were forecast for today and no relief was in sight.

Your Last Chance Today To Donate to 500 Fund

Today is the last chance to make a donation that will help the needy families of The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund. The fund closes today at 5 p.m. Donations may be brought in to the main office at 2631 Douglas Street or the downtown office at 1215 Broad Street. Money mailed to the fund may not arrive in time for this year's distribution. Late donations will launch the fund next year.

Today's total of $7,672 guarantees cheques of $15 for each of the fund's 500 needy families.

Additional money over the $7,500 mark will go toward helping as many extra families as the total permits. So far 11 additional families will receive cheques for $15.

A jump of about 300 per cent in Greater Victoria's welfare rolls brought about the decision to enlarge the fund. Every $15 increase in the total means another family will be helped at this time of year when it is most needed.
